PROF. WOOD'S
RESTORATIVE CORDIAL
AND
BLOOD RENOVATOR

PROFESSOR WOOD'S RESTORATIVE

Is precisely what its name indicates, for, while pleasant to the taste, it is revivifying, exhilarating, and strengthening to the vital powers. It also revivifies, reinstates, and renews the blood in all its original purity, and thus restores and renders the system invulnerable to attacks of disease. It is the only preparation ever offered to the world in a popular form so as to be within the reach of all. So chemically and skillfully combined as to be the most powerful tonic, and yet so perfectly adapted to as to act in perfect accordance with the laws of nature, and hence soothe the weakest stomach and tone up the digestive organs, and allay all nervous and other irritation. It is also perfectly exhilarating in its effects, and yet it is never followed by lassitude or depression of spirits. It is composed entirely of vegetables and those thoroughly combining powerful tonic and soothing properties, and consequently it can never injure. Such a remedy has long been felt to be a desideratum in the medical world, both by the thoroughly skilled in medical science, and also by all who have suffered from debility; for it needs no medical skill or knowledge even to see that debility follows all attacks of disease, and lays the unguarded system open to the attacks of many of the most dangerous to which poor humanity is constantly liable. Such, for example, as the following: Consumption, Bronchitis, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Loss of Appetite, Faintness, Nervous Irritability, Neuralgia, Palpitation of the Heart, Melancholy, Hypochondria, Night Sweats, Languor, Giddiness, and all that class of cases, so fearfully fatal if unattended to in time, called Female Weaknesses and Irregularities. Also, Liver Derangement or Torpidity, and Liver Complaints, Diseases of the Kidneys, Scalding or Incontinence of the Urine, or any general derangement of the Urinary Organs, Pain in the Back, Side, and between the Shoulders, predisposition to slight Colds, Hacking and Continued Cough, Emaciation, Difficulty of Breathing, and indeed we might enumerate many more still, but we have space only to say, it will not only cure the debility following Chills and Fever, but prevent all attacks arising from Miasmatic Influences, and cure the diseases at once, if already attacked. And as it acts directly and persistently upon the biliary system, arousing the Liver to action, promoting, in fact, all the excretions and secretions of the system, it will infallibly prevent any deleterious consequences following upon change of climate and water; hence all travelers should have a bottle with them, and all should take a tablespoonful at least before eating. As it prevents costiveness, strengthens the digestive organs, it should be in the hands of all persons of sedentary habits, students, ministers, literary men. And all ladies not accustomed to much out-door exercise should always use it. If they will they will find an agreeable, pleasant, and efficient remedy against those ills which rob them of their beauty; for beauty cannot exist without health, and health cannot exist while the above irregularities continue. Then again, the Cordial is a perfect Mother's Relief. Taken a month or two before the final trial she will pass the dreadful period with perfect ease and safety. There is no mistake about it, this Cordial is all we claim for it. Mothers, try it! And to you we appeal to detect the illness or decline not only of your daughters before it be too late, but also your sons and husbands, for while the former from false delicacy, often goes down to a premature grave rather than let their condition be known in time, the latter are often so mixed up with the excitement of business that if it were not for you they too would travel in the same downward path, until too late to arrest their fatal fall. But the mother is always vigilant, and to you we confidently appeal; for we are sure your never failing affection will unerringly point you to Professor Wood's Restorative Cordial and Blood Renovator as the remedy which should be always on hand in time of need. O. J. WOOD, Proprietor, 444 Broadway, New York, and 114 Market street, St. Louis, Mo., and sold by all good Druggists. Price One Dollar per Bottle.

For sale by Wilson, Peter, & Co., Sutcliffe & Preuss, J. S. Morris & Sons, Robinson & Co., Lindenberger & Co., Raymond & Tyler, Springer & Bro., Agents in Louisville, and by all druggists. sepl1 deodeow&wlam

A Treatise on the Causes of Early Physical Decline of American People; the Cause of Nervous Debility, Consumption, and Marasmus.

☞ This work is of a high moral tone, written in chaste yet thrilling language, and appeals directly to the moral consciousness of ALL PARENTS and GUARDIANS especially, detailing scientific and reliable aids and treatment for cure.

A Word of Solemn Conscientious Advice to those who will Reflect.

A class of maladies prevail to a fearful extent in community dooming at least 100,000 youth of both sexes annually to an early grave. Those diseases are very imperfectly understood. Their external manifestations or symptoms are Nervous Debility, Relaxation, and Exhaustion; Marasmus or wasting and consumption of the tissues of the whole body; shortness of breathing or hurried breathing on ascending a hill or a flight of stairs, great palpitation of the Heart; Asthma, Bronchitis, and sore Throat; shaking of the Hands and Limbs; aversion to society and to business or study; dimness of Eyesight; loss of Memory; dizziness of the Head; Neuralgic Pains in various parts of the body; Pains in the Back or Limbs; Lumbago, Dyspepsia, or Indigestion; Irregularity of the Bowels; deranged sections of the Kidneys and other glands of the body, as Leucorrhœa or Fluor Albus, &c.; likewise Epilepsy, Hysteria, and Nervous Spasms.

Now, in ninety-nine cases out of every one hundred all the above-named disorders, and a host of others not named, as Consumption of the Lungs, and the most insidious and wily form of Consumption of the Spinal Nerves, known as Tubes Dorsales, and Tubes mesenterica, have their seat and origin in diseases of Pelvic Viscera. Hence the want of success on the part of old school practice in treating symptoms only

Dr. Andrew Stone, Physician to the Troy Lung and Hygienic Institution, is now engaged in treating this class of modern maladies with the most astonishing success. The treatment adopted by the Institution is new; it is based upon scientific principles, with new discovered remedies, without minerals or poisons. The facilities of cure are such that patients can be cured at their homes, in any part of the country, from accurate description of their case, by letter, and have the medicines sent them by mail or express. Printed interrogatories will be forwarded on application.

☞ Consumption, Catarrh, and diseases of the Throat cured as well at the homes of patients as at the Institution by sending the Cold Medicated Inhaling Balsamic Vapors, with inhaler, and ample directions for their use, and direct correspondence.

☞ Patients applying for interrogatories or advice must enclose return stamps to meet attention.

☞ The attending physician will be found at the Institution for consultation, from 9 A. M. to 9 P. M. of each day. Sundays in the forenoon

DR. HALL'S
Louisville
MEDICAL INFIRMARY,

CONDUCTED ON THE PLAN OF THE HOSPITAL DES VENERIENS, PARIS.

WHERE those afflicted with any form of Private Diseases can receive prompt treatment without risk of exposure, viz: Syphilis, Gonorrhea, Gleet, Strictures, Ulcers, Tumors, Cancers, Scrofula, and Constitutional Syphilis, [illegible] them up only from their own [illegible] and permanent cures are constantly being effected at this Infirmary.

YOUNG MEN, TAKE PARTICULAR NOTICE.—Dr. H. devotes much of his time to the treatment of those cases caused by a secret habit which ruins both body and mind, unfitting the unfortunate for either business or society. The effects of these early habits, or the excess of riper years, are to weaken and debilitate the constitution, destroy the physical and mental powers, diminish and enfeeble the natural feelings, and exhaust the vital energies of manhood; the pleasures of life are marred, the object of marriage frustrated, and existence rendered a term of uneasy and increasing misery and regret. Such persons, especially those contemplating marriage, should lose no time in making immediate application, as Dr. H., by his new treatment, is enabled to insure a speedy and permanent cure.

DR. HALL'S AMERICAN PERIODICAL PILLS.—No article of medicine intended for the exclusive use of females has ever yet been introduced that has given such universal satisfaction as the American Periodical Pills. They can be relied on in all cases of Menstrual Obstructions, Irregularities, &c., as a sure and safe remedy. Price, per mail, $1 and one postage stamp.

Patients living at a distance can be cured at home by sending a description of their disease and inclosing a stamp.

Medicine sent to any address.

This is really a Good Medicine, warranted to Cure.

T U R E OIL.

BIG ISLAND, Bedford, Va., Nov. 1, 1854.

MESSRS. DOVE & Co.—Gentlemen: I used about one-fourth of a bottle of your Turf Oil upon the back of my horse, the worst back I almost ever saw, entirely raw, a place nearly as large as my hand, and this single application (I only applied it once) cured it up entirely and permanently. I really was surprised at the quickness of its curative properties, and I think it more prompt and efficacious than anything of the kind I ever saw, and I have sold thousands of bottles of other preparations for similar purposes.
Respectfully, P. BONDURANT.

SPANY COUNTY, VA., January, 1858.

GENTLEMEN: My old man, Billy, about 70 years of age while hewing sills with a broadaxe, split the calf of the leg open down to the bone, about 3 or 4 inches long, cutting an artery. It bled profusely for two days, and continued to bleed until cold and stiff. I had to give him hot brandy. I could not sew it up, but just saturated a piece of linen with your Turf Oil and laid it on the cut. I did not expect him, on account of his age, ever to be able to work again. I continued to dress the wound two or three weeks with the Turf Oil. In six weeks the cut was entirely well, and he was at work again.
Very respectfully, W. CLAIBORNE JONES.

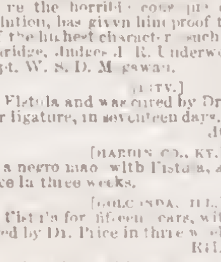
DR. LA CROIX'S
PRIVATE MEDICAL TREATISE ON THE PHYSIOLOGICAL VIEW OF MARRIAGE.

250 Pages and 130 Fine Plain and Colored Lithographs.
☞ PRICE ONLY TWENTY-FIVE CENTS.
☞ Sent free of postage to all parts of the Union.



ON the Infirmities of youth and maturity, disclosing the secret follies of both sexes of all ages, causing debility, nervousness, depression of spirits, palpitation of the heart, suicidal imaginations, involuntary blushings, defective memory, indigestion, and lassitude, &c., containing 250 pages, and illustrated with upwards of one hundred and thirty engravings. It is a truthful adviser to the married and those contemplating marriage, who entertain secret doubts of their physical condition, and who are conscious of having hazarded the health, happiness, and privileges to which every human being is entitled. With Confessions of a Boarding School Miss, a College Student, and a Young Married Lady, full of romance and thrilling interest.

Young men who are troubled with weakness, generally caused by a bad habit in youth, the effects of which are dizziness, pains, forgetfulness, sometimes a ringing in the ears, weak eyes, weakness of the back and lower extremities, confusion of ideas, loss of memory, with melancholy, may be cured by the author's NEW PARIS AND LONDON TREATMENT.

We have for the greater part of the past year, devoted our time in VISITING THE EUROPEAN HOSPITALS, availing ourselves of the knowledge and researches of the most skilled Physicians and Surgeons in Europe and on the Continent—such men as CIVIALE, LENOIRE, RICORD, BRECHETEAU, ACTON, and CURLINGS, of the French and English hospitals. Our tour extended through France, Italy, Germany, Holland, England, Ireland, Scotland, and Wales, visiting in our route the principal hospitals in Paris, London, Rome, Venice, Vienna, Dresden, Berlin, &c., &c. We have been amply repaid by the additional knowledge we have acquired in the treatment of various diseases to which we have directed our attention. Those who place themselves under our care will now have the full benefit of the many NEW AND EFFICIENT REMEDIES which we are enabled to introduce into our practice, and the public may rest assured of the same zeal, assiduity, SECRECY, and attention being paid to their cases, which has so successfully distinguished us heretofore as a Physician in our PECULIAR department of professional practice.

Medicines with full directions sent to any part of the United States or Canadas, by patients communicating their symptoms by letter. Business correspondence strictly confidential.

☞ Dr. L.'s Office is still located as established, under the name of DR. LA CROIX.

BELLINGHAM'S CELEBRATED
STIMULATING ONGUENT
For the Whiskers and Hair.

The subscribers take pleasure in announcing to the citizens of the United States that they have obtained the Agency for, and are now enabled to offer to the American public the above justly celebrated and world-renowned article is prepared by Dr. C. P. BELLINGHAM, an eminent physician of London, and is warranted to bring out a thick set of in from three to six weeks. This article is the only one of the kind used by the French, and in London and Paris it is in universal use.

THE STIMULATING ONGUENT

It is a beautiful, economical, soothing, yet stimulating compound, acting as if by magic upon the roots, causing a beautiful growth of luxuriant hair. If applied to the scalp, it will cure baldness, and cause to spring up in place of the bald spots a fine growth of new hair. Applied according to directions, it will turn red or towy hair dark, and restore gray hair to its original color, leaving it soft, smooth, and flexible. The "ONGUENT" is an indispensable article in every gentleman's toilet, and after one week's use they would not for any consideration be without it.

The subscribers are the only Agents for the article in the United States, to whom all orders must be addressed.

Price One Dollar a box. For sale by all Druggists and Dealers; or a box of the "Onguent" (warranted to have the desired effect) will be sent to any who desire it, by mail (direct), securely packed, on receipt of price and postage, $1 18. Apply to or address

LOUISVILLE JOURNAL

THE HEAVENS BY NIGHT.—The watchers with upturned eyes after sunset, are aware that the heavens at this season of the year present an unusual degree of magnificence, having not only the gorgeous constellations of fixed stars visible during the winter but several of the principal planets, while the zodiacal light streams up from the western horizon almost to the zenith in conical form. Let us take our stand outside as soon as daylight has completely disappeared, and turning our eyes towards the sunset, follow the New York Commercial in its catalogue of stellar and planetary beauties. Very few bright stars appear in the west, but casting the eye a little to the north of west, Alpheratz and Algenib, (the latter just on the horizon) may be noticed. These are the most easterly in the celebrated quadrangle known as the Flying Horse. Were a line drawn from the North Polar star close by the two named and extended as far beyond the lower as these two are apart, it would almost touch the point where the equinoctial and ecliptic intersect each other. But to fix upon this point it is necessary to take an observation earlier in the evening or in the season.

Nearly due West, and about thirty-five degrees above the horizon may be seen the fiery red planet Mars. For six months the sun has been in hot pursuit of this war spirit of the sky, and evidently gaining on him, though slowly. It is some consolation these times to know that the genius which presides over grim-visaged war is retreating from the field, and gives us hopes of the ultimate safety of Major Anderson and his gallant band. Watch that filibuster of the heavens every night you will find that he has left the fixed stars behind him, but old Sol travels still more rapidly, and in less than two months the former will be swallowed up—devoured wholly by the higher power on his track. So may all hostile feeling disappear from our land under a returning flood of loyalty and love.

A short distance to the North of Mars may be seen three rather bright stars, one of them named El Nath. These are all in the head of Aries, the first of the Spring signs. About an equal distance on the other side of that planet are a group forming two pentagons in the head of Cetus (the Whale). The brightest of them (Monkar) is of the second magnitude. Mira, forming one of the angles, is now in its benighted state, being scarcely visible to the naked eye; but next Winter it will blaze a star of the third magnitude. Its name justly betokens that it is wonderful. How strange that every few months it should thus wax and wane in brilliancy like our moon; yet never appear other than as a point, nor change its situation in the heavens.

We pass by the ecliptic to the Pleiades, which are about five degrees North of that line. The brightest of these (Alcyone) is thought to be near the center around which our whole solar system is revolving. It is the sun's sun, but how many of those wheels within wheels exist in the universe who can tell? Toward the southeast of that famous cluster may be seen the equally famous Hyades—"the rainy Hyades," as they were anciently called, on account of the season when they made their appearance. These form a figure resembling the letter V, with the bright star Aldebaran at one extremity. The Hyades are in the forehead of Taurus, while the Pleiades are in his neck. Two stars about ten degrees further east, form the tips of his horns.

But the constellation of the evening is Orion, which has just passed the meridian a little lower down. The three stars which gem his famous belt have been observed by every child, as well as the brilliant Betelgeuse and Belatrix in his shoulders, and Rigel and Saiph in his right knee and left foot. Armed with a most formidable club and the skin of a lion, he is prepared to let fall a most lusty stroke on the Bull's head, if he should happen to miss the eye. Orion is the only constellation mentioned in the Sacred Writings, and Arcturus the only single star; but the latter is not visible so early in the evening. Two hours later it may be seen, a very brilliant object to the north of east, forming a most beautiful curve with the handle of the Dipper, or, if you prefer it, the caudal extremity of the Great Bear.

South of Orion appears a constellation known as Lepus, or the Hare. Due east of this is Canis Major, with Sirius, the brightest fixed star in the heavens, in his mouth. It will be seen that this is nearly in a line with the three stars in Orion's belt. To the Northeast of Sirius, and at about an equal distance as is this from the belt, may be seen another bright star, named Procyon, in the Little Dog (Canis Minor.) With the exception of three other bright stars to the southeast of Sirius, in the constellation Argo, we may abandon the southern heavens for any further object of special interest.

A little to the North of the point overhead, at the same hour, may be seen the star Capella, of the first magnitude, in the constellation Auriga. To the Southeast of this, at the distance of thirty-five degrees, the beautiful pair of twins, Castor and Pollux, come to the meridian, rather more than two hours later. One of these is a double star, the duplicity requiring, however, a pretty good glass before it can be detected. The twins (Gemini) form a beautiful cluster, with rows of stars in their faces, knees, and feet. The sun will be nearly in a straight line between us and the centre of that constellation on the 4th of July. The stars Sirius, Procyon, Pollux, Castor, Menkalina, and Capella form a curve which will be readily recognized.

Passing down the ecliptic towards the East, the planets Jupiter and Saturn are seen in the constellation Leo, each about eight degrees from the star Regulus, which is nearly in a straight line between them. Jupiter is the brightest object in the heavens at that hour; while Saturn looks like a star of the first magnitude. Both these have nearly completed their retrograde courses for the year, and will soon appear to come to a stand-still and then to proceed slowly Eastward among the stars. Three months ago Jupiter was scarcely one degree distant from Regulus; while Saturn was nearly twice as far from it as at present. Both are now at their shortest distance from the earth, being nearly in opposition to the Sun; but have already begun to move off. When rising exactly at sunset, Jupiter was distant less than four hundred, and Saturn a little over eight hundred millions of miles. A glass with a magnifying power of twenty or thirty can detect the moons and belts of the king of the planets; but it requires one of much higher power to observe the moons and rings of Saturn.

The constellations to which we have referred are for the most part near the central belt of the heavens, but the circumpolar clusters are almost equally brilliant. See in the northeast, the Great Bear, with Dubhe and Merak in his flank, ever pointing toward the North Pole. The Little Bear contains another quadrilateral terminating in a tail, whose tip is the veritable Pole itself (Cynosura). Unlike his larger namesake's the tail of Ursa Minor stands nearly erect, as small men have a far higher notion of the merit of perpendicularity than their taller neighbors. Passing the Wagoner on our course westward, we behold Perseus with his sword drawn, a larger cluster of rather indifferent stars forming this group. Then come Andromeda and Cassiopeia the latter a beautiful constellation on the point of setting, or rather of touching the horizon, for it never disappears in this latitude, any more than the others named in this paragraph. Below the Polar star are Cepheus and the Dragon with its half-dozen horrid coils; but the several stars composing these are not of extraordinary brilliancy.

P. S.—We had almost forgotten to observe that the planet Mercury is now visible in the West for a short time after sunset, where it shines with a silvery lustre, brighter than a star of the first magnitude. Venus may still be observed in the East a little before sunrise, but will shortly disappear, not to emerge out of the solar rays, on the opposite side, before midsummer.

SICK HEADACHE,
MENTAL HEADACHE,
NERVOUS HEADACHE,

HEADACHE—whether as a premonitory symptom of threatened disease, or as a concomitant of a disease intrenched within the system, is instantaneously relieved by
RADWAY'S READY RELIEF,
and CURED IN SIX HOURS,
BY RADWAY'S REGULATING PILLS.

There is scarcely a disease, ailment, or malady that seizes upon the human system but that one of its chief and primary symptoms is HEADACHE. The slightest derangement of the Stomach, Liver, Heart, Skin, Bowels, Kidneys, or Bladder, or a disturbance of the circulation of the blood—or interference with the perspiration—results in pain, to a greater or less degree of severity, in the HEAD.

HEADACHE

Is not of itself a disease, but it is a certain sign that foreign and unhealthy humors exist within the system, and that disease is brewing within the body. Headache, therefore, should never be neglected; it is a warning of approaching woe, a signal to the sufferer to fortify his system to resist and repel the threatened disease. Headache is not only a positive sign of threatened disease, but it is likewise a concomitant of all the most violent, infectious, epidemic, and fatal diseases that afflict mankind. In the malarious, contagious, and infectious fevers—in YELLOW, TYPHUS, TYPHOID, SCARLET, SHIP FEVER—in LUNG FEVER, PNEUMONIA, MEASLES, SMALL POX—

IN FEVER AGUE.

Chagres Fever, Marsh Fever, in all Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, in Bilious, Nervous, and Rheumatic Fevers, in Influenza, Sore Throat, Sudden Colds, in Diptheria, in Inflammations, Congestions, and Convulsions.

HEADACHE, HEADACHE, HEADACHE,

weighs down the brain with pain, and transforms the maddened brain to hideous insanity. In all these distressing forms of Headache,

RADWAY'S READY RELIEF,
and
RADWAY'S REGULATING PILLS,

are quick and positive curatives.

In all cases of Sympathetic Headache, as disordered stomach, sudden cold, excessive indulgence, close application, &c., RADWAY'S READY RELIEF will restore the sufferer to peaceful tranquillity in a few minutes, and will, in six hours, purge from the system all offending humors, and restore a healthy equalization to the circulation.

Let those who are at present suffering with Headache make the experiment. In from five minutes to six hours you will be free from pain, and will enjoy a refreshing sleep. Don't wait, but try it at once.

EMINENT AND DISTINGUISHED

and have cured themselves and others with these remedies, after all other medicines failed. Every one of the above named gentlemen will vouch for these remedies, as being the only medicine that restored them and their friends and those to whom they recommended them, to health.

RADWAY'S READY RELIEF.
THE MINUTE MEDICINE.

Instantaneous ease is given by Radway's Ready Relief in all cases of acute pain, internal or external. It stops in a moment the maddening agony of rheumatism, neuralgia, toothache, burns, scalds, cuts, and bruises, when applied outwardly. Torture, that if continued would cause death, is arrested, and a single dose of it, in five minutes. It impedes disease, giving time for the action of the other remedies. All complaints caused by unhealthy air, such as small pox, scarlet fever, measles, fever and ague, yellow fever, cholera, dysentery, pneumonia, &c., are prevented by its use in time. When the nervous system is paralyzed or convulsed, it produces a rapid reaction, immediately relieving spasms, convulsions, hysterics, &c. For the debilitated it is the best possible stomachic, infinitely better than alcohol in any form. Have it on hand always, for it may be required at any moment, and no drug will supply its place.

WM. SYDNEY MYERS, ESQ., HAVANA, CUBA.

HAVANA, CUBA, Jan. 3, 1858.

MESSRS. RADWAY & CO., Gentlemen: I have been a sufferer from Acute Chronic Rheumatism for the last twenty years of my life; my sufferings during that period, neither tongue nor pen can express. I have spent a little fortune on Doctors' bills, without deriving any substantial benefit. Recently I had one of my frequent periodical attacks. I was very ill for a week, and had not slept an hour at any one time. A Spanish friend to whom I related my sufferings, told me he had a remedy which would give me relief, and he kindly presented me with a bottle of "RADWAY'S READY RELIEF." Although skeptical of its having any advantage from its use, I that night applied it to all my going to bed and, to my great amazement, felt relieved and slept soundly. The next night, I again applied the Ready Relief, and awoke in the morning free from pain, having only used about half the bottle.

Thus it. to I return you my humble acknowledgments for your invaluable medicine, which may well be called a "blessing to man." * * * * Thanking you from my soul for your wonderful remedy, I have the honor to subscribe myself,
Yours, Respectfully,
W. SYDNEY MYERS.

By RADWAY'S RENOVATING RESOLVENT.

Humors of all kinds, Sores, Ulcers, Skin Eruptions, Salt Rheum, Tetter, Pimples, Blotches, Tumors, Scrofula, Syphilis, Fever, Sores, White Swellings, Nodes, Erysipelas, Sore Heads, Sore Eyes, Sore Mouths, Cankers, Cancers, Severe Chronic Complaints, Gout, Rheumatism, Dyspepsia, Dropsy, Bronchitis, Ulcers in the Throat, Lungs, &c.

UNHEALTHY CITIES, SICKLY CLIMATES.

Dr. Wan Daric, of [illegible], writes to the special agent of Dr. Radway as follows: This is one of the most unhealthy places in the world—medicines of known value that will cure diseases of the same character in other places have no effect upon the sick here. Radway's Ready Relief, Regulating Pills and Renovating Resolvent prove happy exceptions, for in every case where these miraculous medicines are administered, they cure the sick. I have cured the most terrible cases of yellow fever, fever and ague, typhoid fever, congestion of the liver, billious fever, by the use of the Ready Relief and Radway's Pills.

With the Ready Relief and Regulating Pills, Dysentery is harmless, Cholera becomes a pastime, and the most violent Small Pox changes to a mild form of the Varioloid. The frightful Asthma is speedily reduced to easy, unchecked breathing. In bites of snakes, and stings of insects a single application of the Ready Relief neutralizes the poison, and soothes the irritated flesh. I have cured several cases of palpitation of the heart, rash of blood to the head, and fits of various kinds, by a few doses of Radway's Regulating Pills.

RADWAY'S RENOVATING RESOLVENT

Will regenerate dilapidated humanity, cleanse, enrich, and purify the blood, cure every kind of humors, and insure to all a clear skin and fair complexion.

FOR SORE EYES, ULCERS, AND HUMORS.

The Walking Skeleton, covered with Sores and Running Ulcers.

Before the introduction of Radway's Renovating Resolvent on the coast of South America, the streets of Callao, Valparaiso, Buenos Ayres, Rio and other populous cities, were thronged with poor and decrepid, wornout remnants of humanity, covered from head to foot with filthy sores and ulcers, discharging filthy and corrupt humors. The use of Radway's Renovating Resolvent has purified, cleansed, and healed the sick in [illegible]. Not a single crippled and disabled beggar is now to be found, and sores and ulcers are not to be seen in the [illegible].

Radway's Renovating Resolvent, aided in the more severe cases by the Ready Relief and Regulating Pills, has not failed to relieve every one covered with running sores and ulcers [illegible].

MR. LINCOLN'S CABINET.—The Cabinet selected by the new President, and confirmed by the Senate without a dissenting Southern vote, is highly respectable, in point of ability, and, on the whole, moderate and conciliatory in complexion. Chase and Blair, it is understood, are the only members of the Cabinet who incline to radicalism in either theory or practice, and, as it seems, their radicalism was not deemed sufficiently extreme or malignant by the Southern Senators to call for an expression of dissent. On the other hand, Seward, Cameron, Welles, and Bates, are understood to be inclined strongly to wise and temperate counsels. These last-mentioned gentlemen belong to the conservative wing of the Republican party. The predominant tone of the Cabinet is thus pacific and discreet. In short, we cannot help regarding the constitution of the Cabinet as strengthening rather than weakening the favorable indications disclosed in the inaugural address.

☞The Revolutionary Congress at Montgomery has appointed three Commissioners, charged with the task of negotiating on behalf of the seceding States with the National Government at Washington. These Commissioners will probably reach Washington within the next eight or ten days at furthest.

The Commissioners, on their arrival at Washington, will doubtless demand of Mr. Lincoln substantially what the South Carolina Commissioners demanded of Mr. Buchanan; and, so far as mere compliance with the demand is concerned, they will doubtless receive substantially the same answer as their Carolinian predecessors received: but we hope that in other respects Mr. Lincoln will go much further than Mr. Buchanan was able to go.

Mr. Lincoln, as the official head of the dominant party in the country, has it in his power, whilst discharging fully the obligations imposed upon him by his oath of office, to make such an appeal to the seceding States as will either insure peace until the people of the whole country have time to assemble in a National Convention or else fix the responsibility of collision upon the authorities of those States so clearly and exclusively that the verdict of the world on the point shall be nearly unanimous. And he owes it to himself as well as to the country to make such an appeal in response to these Commissioners or as much sooner as he may think fit.

Let the President, besides abstaining carefully from disturbing in any measure the existing status, address the seceding States in some form to the effect we have indicated above, exerting at the same time his whole influence to secure the speedy assembling of a National Convention, and, in our firm belief, he will either stay the progress of revolution or morally disarm it. Unquestionably the tendency of such action on his part would be most salutary. And it seems to us that he cannot do less without falling signally below the requirements of his position.

☞The dangerous tendency towards a despotic government is more evident, the more closely we inspect the Constitution of the Confederate States. The 2d section of article 2 provides that "the President and Vice-President shall be elected by ballot by the States represented in the Congress, each State casting one vote, and a majority of the whole being requisite to elect;" and section 1 of article five says "the Congress may, by a vote of two-thirds, at any time alter or amend this Constitution." Now there are six States in the Confederacy, any four of which being a majority, will also constitute a two-third vote, so that four States can change the entire government from a representative republic to a monarchy or whatever else is deemed best. We think South Carolina and Georgia will find themselves in a very tight place when the fight comes off between their Atlantic seaports and the Gulf and Mississippi river cities for maritime ascendency. It has already been commenced by a proposition to abolish all the interior custom-house offices, such as Augusta, Macon, and Atlanta, and should Kentucky secede Louisville too would cease to be a port of delivery.

☞As soon as the Southern Confederacy has its Patent office regularly established, we advise our friend of the Louisville Courier to deposit a caveat for his new invention of choice figures of speech to conceal what is meant to be said. In this department of art, our neighbor is a connoisseur, the Count D'Orsay of the press, and he can lay on the colors, or chisel hard substances with more expertness than falls to the lot of ordinary mortals. Thus, for instance, he speaks of "the friends of the unconstitutional domination of the North over the South." Now this is neat, very neat, and you may apply all the acid tests of logic to it without causing any effervescence to detect its impurity. It is broad, capacious, sweeping; and yet, to adopt the euphonious language of the Courier, "the lie is persisted in by those whose political creed is based on the radical error of an impregnable belief in the ignorance of the people." After such knock-down arguments, we shall not venture to ask what is the nature of the "unconstitutional domination of the North over the South" complained of, who complains, or how are we to find a more constitutional domination by going "'way down to Alabama" and studying the philosophy of statesmanship in the Montgomery school.

☞The Southern Confederacy contemplates an imposition of export duties on cotton. It will never rest until it has killed the goose that lays its golden eggs. The secession phase of statesmanship presents this singular fallacy; while it assumes that all the world must buy its cotton it cannot recognize the necessity for selling it. It would turn its trade into unwonted and expensive channels for the sake of trying to build up a few seaport towns, and, after the expenditure of millions to complete railroads, it would cut off all facilities for their use. We need hardly say that the Cobb family are the proposers of this ridiculous policy.

☞Our Southern seceding States will not allow us to respect them, as they are continually planning new schemes of robbery and unlawful appropriation. Having taken possession of all the government property within their reach, except that protected by the United States flag, they now propose to issue school and other books copyrighted in the North, to manufacture sewing machines, pistols, rifles, agricultural implements, and a hundred other things.

☞ The Provisional Congress of the Confederated States has passed an act prohibiting the foreign slave trade, which is very stringent in its provisions. Coolies are interdicted as an article of importation as well as slaves, which is certainly a great step forward in Christian philanthropy. We hope that the seceding States will be more rigorous in enforcing their own law than they have been in prosecutions under the Federal acts.

☞If any of the people of Mississippi, Louisiana Alabama, or any other seceding State, think that they can lay an impost duty on the productions of Kentucky without finding themselves under the pleasant necessity of paying that duty themselves, secession must have made them greater fools than they ever were before.

☞ The telegraph tells us that John C. Breckinridge has been qualified as a United States Senator from Kentucky. Of course he has renewed his obligation to support the constitution of the United States, and we trust he will do so.

☞An Alabama paper wants to know how long Kentucky will hesitate to go out of the Union. We guess she will be very sure not to go out of it before she ascertains whether Alabama gains or loses by her attempt to go out of it.

☞South Carolina has been trying how "not to do it" long enough. Don't she know how to do it? We will tell her:

South Carolina Sumter wants,
But of bloodshed has a horror,
Let her give Floyd ten per cent.—
The rogue will steal it for her.

☞Our old friend Charlie Kirk thinks poorly of Mr. Lincoln's courage. The world will of course be impatient to learn what Mr. Lincoln thinks of Charlie's.

☞A Kentucky paper says that "the toils of the Northern States are all around us." Yes, the toils of their toilers are all around us and in the midst of us.

OUR COUNTRY—ITS PERIL—ITS DELIVERANCE.

BY THE REV. DR. ROBERT J. BRECKINRIDGE.

PART IV. AMICABLE SETTLEMENT: Statement of the Case—Relation of the North and the South to the Rendition of Fugitive Slaves, and to Slavery in the Territories—Rights and Duties of both Parties—Amicable Settlement as Simple and Equitable as it is Wise and Patriotic.

1. In attempting to develop the topic which remains, we are fully aware of the difficulties of the task. Both at the North and at the South, there are great parties thoroughly organized and acting in precisely opposite directions as to opinion, but one direction as effective as the other towards the common object of their labors—namely, the tearing of the nation to pieces. They who agree in nothing else, agree in the common desire for that result, which involves our national ruin. In the meantime, the immense popular masses at the North which have only partially co-operated with the organized parts bent on destruction, or have fallen into minorities openly resisting that party—are neither organized in part, nor of one accord amongst themselves, except upon the single point, that they are suddenly awakened to the extreme peril of the situation, and are rapidly settling into a resolute purpose to avert the danger, if it is still possible. In the whole South, the condition of affairs is similar, but more perilous. The disruption of the Democratic party at Charleston and at Baltimore, is susceptible of but three possible interpretations: it was an act of mere passion—or it was an act of deep intention, designed to produce exactly what has followed—or it was an act looking to the reconstruction of that party and to new endeavors for its permanent triumph as a national party. Recent events tend to show, that the disruption was made in the fixed sense of the second of these three possible interpretations; or at any rate, in the contemplation, and perfect preparation of many leading men to take that alternative, even if they are not chargeable with having intentionally procured it. What occurred was, that the cotton growing South suddenly awoke to a consciousness, that a great and perfectly organized party in her bosom, was precipitating State after State into secession; while in every seceding State—even in South Carolina—masses of the people, stunned by the suddenness and vehemence and thorough organization of the movement, were borne along by it, or made resistance only on collateral points, or remained in dissatisfied silence as the storm swept over them. And in all the remaining slave States, State after State became suddenly the theatre of a concerted agitation propagated originally from South Carolina, and tending everywhere to the same violent result, by the same seditious proceedings, in the venerable names of State sovereignty and constitutional power. In these latter States, the resistance on the part of the community to this revolutionary fanaticism, was more in accordance with what became a free people; and whatever the issue may be, the most of them, possibly every one of them, will reach it with a decorum, a gravity, and a public decency inseparable even in death itself from all true greatness, on all great occasions. But these great popular masses throughout the fifteen Slave States—embracing all men who were not ready to rush into immediate secession, and embracing, therefore, the immense majority of the people in that half of the nation—were taken by surprise—cut up into three mutually hostile political parties—disorganized by an infinite diversity of opinion—and destitute for the moment of great leaders to whom they could turn with common consent. Rapidly, and by a movement almost spontaneous, public opinion, overborne for the moment in the six seceding States, and trembling in the balance in several other States, appears to us to be consolidating in the greater number and the most powerful of those States, in a determinate manner, and upon fixed points. In them there is none of that frantic hostility to the Union which has been ostentatiously manifested in other places; but on the contrary, an avowed attachment to the Union, and a declared purpose to maintain it, if it can be done consistently with their security, their honor, and their rights. In them there is no disposition to contend for extreme rights, or to demand conditions which in changed circumstances they would not grant themselves, much less to fly to arms by way of preliminary menace, or to look to foreign nations for aid in the execution of any designs present or future; but on the contrary, there is an upright and an outspoken desire to adjust all existing troubles, and if possible to secure the future, upon terms of perfect equity and equality, such as ought to satisfy true men, and such as true men ought spontaneously to grant. Now it is not to confirmed Abolitionists of the North, nor is it to confirmed Secessionists of the South, that any suggestions of peace need be made, or any terms of honorable composition need be propounded, which look to the preservation of a country which they do not profess to love, and the salvation of institutions which they own they abhor. But it is to the great, true, and faithful people of the glorious American Nation that must not be destroyed, no matter of what sovereign State they may be citizens, and no matter how much they may now appear to be scattered and disorganized; that suggestions of peace, and justice, and fraternity, looking to endless and boundless glory and prosperity, may be offered, with a good hope through God, that they may enter into the mass of human thought, and be felt according to the wisdom that may be in them.

2. Let it be observed, that the free States and the slave States occupy in some respects totally different positions, relatively to the difficulties about slavery, and to the ground on which those difficulties are to be adjusted. With the North the whole affair is a sentiment—an opinion. With the South it is an affair of life and death. The North has not one dollar of estate at stake—the South has four thousand millions of dollars invested in slaves. The North has not one dollar of income directly dependent on slavery—the South has an annual income of two hundred and fifty million dependent directly on slave labor. Moreover, there are no negro slaves among the nineteen millions of people in the eighteen free states—so that all questions of a national aspect tending to influence slavery, are perfectly void of force as to the interior peace, quiet, and security of all these eighteen States; whereas the fifteen slave States have four millions of slaves dispersed through their eight millions of white people, and every national question that can, in any of its bearings, either agitate or quiet this vast slave population, is of itself a question, between different nations, of war or peace. Still further, the institution of slavery has no necessary bearing whatever upon the social, economical, personal, or political condition of any State or individual at the North; whereas it is thoroughly interwoven with every fibre of society at the South—and as an institution is so pervading in its effects wherever it exists, that a community long trained in the forms of life connected with it, does not incur the change involved in its destruction, except under some most powerful impulse. And again, this nation was once a nation composed exclusively of slave States—and if in the progress of events the greater part of the States become free States—every consideration of decency and good faith obliges those thus changing their condition to be more and more, instead of less and less, observant of the duties and even the proprieties they owe to those who remain in the condition once common to all. And, to suggest nothing more, the preponderating power of the free States in the Union, added to the unscrupulous and disloyal principles avowed and propagated, to a greater or less extent, in every one of them during the last thirty years; obliges the North, by every consideration of prudence, of equity, and of magnanimity, to concede to the South all that the spirit of their mutual engagements requires, instead of striving to rob her of every security which is not expressed in the narrowest letter of the law. So clear is this controlling aspect of the subject, and so deeply does it enter into the convictions of all just men, that, on the one hand, the whole feeling of loyalty to the Union in the South, is connected with an abiding confidence that the North will act as becomes her in this emergency; and on the other hand, with an unshaken purpose, in the Union or out of it, to vindicate the security, the equality, and the rights of the slave States. It is upon these two points—can the South rely upon the North—and can the South maintain her vital interests in the Union—that public opinion in the slave States which have not seceded, is struggling at this moment. For our own part, thoroughly convinced that both of those questions ought to be answered in the affirmative, we must not disguise that the thousands of loyal and patriotic men who have reached an opposite conclusion, and under it have been precipitated, by the force of a trained and long organized conspiracy, unto fatal proceedings; are able to render reasons for their want of confidence, to which coming ages will say, the North ought to have given earlier and more considerate heed. It is idle to attempt here, a statement of particular aggressions, upon a case so large, so long continued, so aggravating, and so palpable. If there is one sentiment perfectly cordial, and perfectly unanimous throughout the fifteen slave States, it is that they have just cause of complaint: a sentiment in which it is extremely probable, that the actual majority of the entire North would to some extent concur. Nay, the very form of any amicable settlement that can ever be made, reveals the true nature of the case—as every possible statement of it must show.

3. There are two points upon which the South has made up its mind, and which are decisive, one way or the other, of the whole matter: and upon which the course which the North may take, will either arrest the farther spread of the secession pestilence, and under firm and temperate treatment, as we have before shown, will probably bring back the seceding States; or will probably throw the whole nation into a state of political convulsion, the end of which no man can conjecture, and no living man will see. These two points relate, 1. To the fair and complete execution of the provisions of the Federal Constitution, made expressly in favor of property in slaves—and most especially the provision for the rendition of fugitive slaves: 2. To the recognition of the perfect equality of the slave States with the free States, under the Federal Constitution, in all things—and most especially in the matter of Federal Territories. We will briefly treat of each of these points separately. And as it appears to us very clear that adequate power exists under the Federal Constitution to settle both points in a fair, complete, and satisfactory manner—we will not enter upon the discussion of any of the proposed changes in that instrument. There are also several incidental questions, such as slavery in the District of Columbia, the migration of slaves from one slave State to another, and the like, which we shall not discuss; since, as we doubt not, the settlement of the real question will draw after it the settlement of the rest; and a refusal to settle that renders all discussion of the others idle.

4. If any one will compare the unquestionable right of the owners of slaves, secured by the Federal Constitution, to have them delivered to them in the States to which they may escape, with what has occurred during many past years with reference to the fair and sincere enforcement of this right, in any Northern State where its enforcement has been attempted,—or with the average aggregate conduct of the whole North upon the subject; he will be struck with astonishment, in proportion as he gets a complete idea of what the border slave States have suffered, and of the demoralized condition of opinion at the North on the whole subject, and of the utter wickedness of the organized robbery which has been systematically carried on. Mark—the Constitution of the nation expressly requires the rendition of slaves when they escape. Then observe, that along the border common to Ohio and Kentucky, slaves have been systematically enticed from their owners, by organized societies in Ohio, and carried off by arrangements so extensive, so complete, and so effectual, that along the entire border between those States, two or three counties deep, slavery is totally insecure in Kentucky. Along the frontier of all the other border slave States, a similar system of organized plunder has been in active operation. To what extent the system penetrates the interior regions of the slave States, it is difficult to say; but it is known that emissaries from the North have systematically pervaded the entire South, in every imaginable disguise, schoolmaster, peddler, agent, quack, preacher, laborer—everything—making known to the slaves the routes and methods of escape, and instilling into their minds principles that result in house-burning, poisoning, murder, and rape, if escape is impossible. What success has attended these diabolical proceedings, with regard to the whole number of slaves stolen, we have no better means of knowing than the published statement of journals that advocate the robbery: and after allowing for much boasting on their part, prompted by very obvious reasons, the number can hardly be set lower than a yearly average of ten thousand slaves—worth little short of ten millions of dollars—for some years past. Nor must it be forgotten, that although large sums of money are contributed by fanatics throughout the North, to the yearly support of these operations, yet the immediate agents of the work make it very profitable. We, and many hundred persons, have personal knowledge of a case which occurred a few years ago in Kentucky, in which between fifty and sixty negro men were attempted to be run off at one time, from Lexington and the surrounding region; in which the fee of the white organizer and leader of the company varied, according to the success of the negroes in stealing, from twenty-five to one hundred and fifty dollars each. In that case the party was surprised when near the Ohio river, and the slaves recovered; and the white man is now in the Kentucky Penitentiary—instead of being lynched, as he would have been anywhere but in one of the finest communities in the world. Now let it be further observed, that this state of horrible perfidy, though notorious at the North, instead of awaking the universal horror of the community, finds the fundamental principles which underlie it, gradually penetrating in all directions; widely influential journals advocating them; supporters of them sitting in many State Legislatures, and in both houses of Congress; political parties impregnated with them; the laws of many States changed so as to give them security; the current literature deeply imbued with them; and, to crown all, the ministers of religion, to the extent almost of whole sects and denominations, making them the chief themes of their instruction from the pulpit. We do not enumerate the election of Mr. Lincoln as a climax, and final triumph of these principles: on the contrary, it is clear to us that his nomination for the Presidency is to be accounted evidence of a reaction against them: and we know of little in the modern history of parties, braver, or more manly, than his unflinching and reiterated declarations, that the South is entitled to an effective law for the rendition of fugitive slaves, and to its effective execution.

5. That is precisely what the whole South demands. Planted on the Constitution—loyal to it and to the country—the evidence of the wrongs she has endured written on the whole face of society North and South, Mr. Lincoln himself has long ago spoken the brave and true word; the South is entitled to an effective law, and to its effective execution, whereby these outrages shall be put down forever. The time to discuss the propriety of putting such a clause in the Federal Constitution, terminated seventy years ago. The time to plead conscientious scruples for breach of faith founded on the alleged immorality of property in slaves, will come after it is shown that a nation can exist—much less that a free people can tranquilly sustain a common government—for the sake of enabling one half to plunder and degrade the other half. One of the worst symptoms of the case is manifested in the indirect manner in which many of the Northern States have endeavored to defeat the execution of public law by unfriendly legislation, directed In some instances against their own citizens, in some against citizens of the South, and in some against both; and in, not only an apparent popular approval of such laws, and the most stolid indifference to the matter on the part of those who did not approve them, but even in their careful and well considered defence by some of the ablest and best men in the North, as being without serious objection in principle. That is, all the people in Massachusetts being both citizens of that State and citizens of the United States, and there being nobody there to act in either capacity, except those who must act in both; what follows under this new political morality, and what is attempted under the pretext of religious scruples is—that the people of Massachusetts as citizens of the United States acknowledge the obligation resting on them under the Federal Constitution for the rendition of fugitive slaves in Massachusetts; and at the same moment as citizens of the State, they pass laws refusing the use of their prisons and making it criminal for their officers or even their citizens to assist, and contrive remedies whereby the owner who seeks to recover his slave may be arrested as a trespasser, or even imprisoned as a felon. It is an exceedingly palpable instance, on a large scale, of what resources were possessed by those fortunate and unscrupulous gentlemen of a past age, who were princes and bishops at the same time. In point of morals, such pretexts are simply scandalous. In private life, no man who resorts to them can be held to be a gentleman—or in pecuniary transactions, can be considered honest. In public life, such attempts are chargeable with the folly and wickedness of begetting conflicts of civil and political duties in mere wantonness—or with being, as we have before shown they are, the organized results of that seditious spirit of anarchy which is destroying our country, and which a better public sentiment must crush wherever it exists, before society can be safe in any part of it. The people of the free States, wherever and in so far as they have been seduced into such legislation, owe to public morality, to their own character, and to their highest interests, not less than to their constitutional obligations as citizens of the United States, and the mutual relations of the States to each other under our noble institutions to erase at once all State enactments that cast obloquy on their own national obligations, or look towards the dishonor or the obstruction of the just and unquestionable claims of others upon them. And we rejoice with all our heart at the indication in so many portions of the North, that what is right will be promptly done in this matter; and by this means, one of the steps indispensable to the permanent maintenance of our institutions be firmly taken, and the friends of the Union everywhere, but especially in the South, have a noble vindication of their resolute confidence that the nation was still sound at heart.

6. The other point of the two which the whole nation perceives to be fundamental, relates to the equality of the States in the Union, and especially as that bears upon the question of slavery in the Federal Territories, as we have already stated. The great idea of all our institutions, though complex, is perfectly clear. We constitute one nation, whose people, however, are divided into many sovereign States. We have no nation but as we have these States; and we have no States but as they make this nation; and our people are citizens both of the nation and of some particular State—and strictly speaking, to be one involves the other. The fundamental principles of our liberty is the sovereignty, not of governments, but of society itself—the people; and the deepest foundation of this sovereignty of the people, is their right to change, to order, and to interpret, their political and civil institutions, by voting; to do this as separate States where the matter relates exclusively to the particular State—to do it in concert where it relates to the nation. In the exercise of this sovereign power the people of this nation have made all their constitutions—the very oldest of which now existing is the Federal Constitution. And the broad distinction between that Constitution made for the nation, which by its nature and its terms is supreme over all in its proper sphere, and the Constitutions made for the States respectively, is simply this; that by the former no powers are conferred on the General Government created by it except such as are expressly enumerated and such as are incidental and necessary thereto; and that by the latter all powers residing in society are conferred on the State Governments created by them, except such as are expressly withheld by Bills of Rights, or some similar device. We do not mean that these results are inherent and inevitable; but we mean that these are the facts—the great and wise things actually accomplished by our ancestors. In the balancing of the powers of the Federal and State Governments, and in defining and ordering their mutual spheres and extent, lies that wide debatable ground over which statesmen have fought their battles, and organized parties. Amongst these battles none have been more hotly fought, or more perilous to the country, than the one which has been waged over this question of Slavery in the Federal Territories. What we propose, is not to enter into a history of these difficulties—nor to discuss the soundness of any of the conflicting interpretations of the Constitution, upon which the extreme claims of hostile parties or sections rest; but to accept the actual and notorious posture of the whole affair—and having pointed out, in the nature of our system of government, the ground and the character of the real difficulty, to state the principles on which alone, as it appears to us, the integrity of the Union between slave States and free States can be preserved.

7. There are three possible results to the matter, namely: all the Territories may become free States, or all may become slave States, or some may become one, and some may become the other. No one who has a grain of common sense can suppose it to be possible for either of the first two results to occur, by any peaceful means, or that the general government can throw its influence systematically in favor of either of them, without breaking up the confederacy—or that extensive combinations of States on either side to secure either result, can terminate otherwise than in war. It follows, therefore, that the practical enforcement of the dogma on which Mr. Lincoln comes into power, namely, that there shall be no more slavery in the Territories, is impossible otherwise than by means of the dissolution of the Union, and the subsequent conquest of one portion of the country by the other. But Mr. Lincoln and his party, if they are insane enough to push their dogma to that terrible issue, will—to say nothing of other perils—probably find themselves arrested, as soon as they show that they are in earnest, by a counter-revolution at the North, which will crush the diabolical conspiracy. Admitting that the Congress of the United States has absolute power over the National Territories—and admitting that the Northern States had the permanent control of both Houses of Congress; we have not the least idea, that a congress and a national administration in this, or any other free country, would encounter the peril, and heap on themselves the degradation of attempting to rob numerous States and many millions of people, all subject to the same government, and all portions of the same nation with themselves, of their total share in an imperial inheritance. Such ideas may be made effectual in the organization of parties, and may assume prominence in popular movements; but when it becomes necessary to give them legal form and validity, to enforce them at the point of the bayonet, to risk counter-revolution in support of them, to establish them upon the ruins of society, and cover either the triumph or the failure of the attempt with the detestation of mankind, their evasion, in some way or other, is one of those uncontrollable necessities of responsible power, before which human passions bow in reverent awe. In like manner, the opposite extreme opinion and claim, is in its nature equally incapable of being realized. Admitting it to be true, that by the Constitution of the United States, every Federal Territory is dedicated to slavery, until on becoming a State, the people abolish it by a sovereign act; and admitting that the Supreme Court has the power to establish, beyond reversion, this sense of the Constitution, and that it has done so in a case regularly before it, and demanding for its decision the settlement of this point; still the practical enforcement of the thing, is both morally and politically impossible. We have not the least idea, that a congress composed exclusively of Southern men, could be gathered by popular election, that would entertain a proposition to rob free States weaker than themselves, of their share of a common inheritance, upon any plea that can be imagined; we do not believe the minority of any slave State would enforce such a proposition; we do not believe that any Southern gentleman would execute such a scheme. Moreover, the political impossibility is complete; and the actual state of the country as presented by the relative number and power of the free and slave States, and as exhibited by the state of opinion everywhere—the notion of establishing slavery in all the national Territories as of constitutional right, has about the same practical value as the notion of securing all those Territories for slavery, by secession. Now, let it be borne in mind, that we have taken these claims and the demands on the one side and the other, as being founded on truths that are undeniable, and rights that are unquestionable; and have pointed out the impossibility of any just, practical, or peaceful result, in the direction indicated on either side. How immeasurably is that conclusion strengthened, when it is considered that there is not a truth asserted, a principle laid down, or a claim advanced on either side, that is not vehemently repudiated by about half the population of the nation! Well may we assert the complete impossibility both of excluding slavery from all the Territories, and of establishing it in them all: and denounce the wickedness of all parties who persist in such endeavors. Those Territories, if the nation survives, must necessarily be, and ought to be, partly slave and partly free. Political necessity demands it, public justice requires it, all true statesmanship points to that result, the undisturbed force of events would terminate in that issue, and all attempts to prevent it are founded in considerations forbidden alike by wisdom, by equity, and by patriotism; and will end in crime, and misery, and dishonor, precisely in the degree that they are successful. If the country shall be destroyed, the chief importance of the questions on which our ruin is brought about, will afterwards be, that all men may see how scandalous were the pretexts upon which the noblest product of human civilization was made desolate.

8. The national domain not embraced by the boundaries of any existing State, amounts to one and a half or two millions of square miles; an area much greater than that covered by all the States lying between the Atlantic Ocean and the Mississippi River; not much less, perhaps, than the area covered by all the present States. That the people of the larger and more numerous free States should combine to exclude the people of the weaker and less numerous slave States, from the enjoyment of the whole of this immense inheritance, is an outrage so preposterous, that one is the less astonished that it should react in a counter combination to establish slavery in the whole of it; and while the pretext of conscientious scruples for seizing all was the natural, because the only one, however ignoble, which the strong could use—the counter resort of the weaker party was also natural, and the only one they could make but war, namely, extreme constitutional right, countenanced by their construction of a political judgment of the Supreme Court. In effect, as there are but three possible relations of the case, as has just been shown, so there are but three possible methods in which the case can be solved. One is by an equitable partition of the common inheritance, founded on the mutual recognition by the parties of the undeniable fact that it is a common property: a second is, for the owners of the inheritance determining to fight out their opposite claims in each particular Territory — somewhat after the manner of the Kansas affair: the third is, to dissolve the Union, and fight out the opposing claims afterwards, leaving the Territories like everything else, in a state of anarchy, useless to either party. It is indeed conceivable that after dissolving the Union, men might recover their senses, and be capable, as alien enemies to each other, of acting with a degree of mutual forbearance and justice, which if practiced when they were united by the most sacred bonds, would have kept them friends forever. The probability of such a miracle, every one will determine for himself; as well as the probability that the future inhabitants of the vast region thrown away by the nation in its disgraceful paroxysms, will put faith enough in such miracles to respect any partition of them amongst the fragments of a disbanded confederacy. It is in vain that we would evade the sacred duties which press us, and from whose performance there is no escape that does not at the same moment brand us with infamy, and hurry us towards destruction. There is but one possible result that is just and right—and there is but one possible way of reaching that result that is either sure, fair, or peaceful: but that result, and that way of reaching it, are perfectly obvious—and when once recognized and pursued, they remove whatever difficulty the fair and complete execution of the duty to restore fugitive slaves leaves to be removed. It is upon these two points, as we have tried in all fairness to show, that the nation is bound and obliged to set herself right—that the people are required to make their majestic voice audible above the clamor of factions, and that all good men are called of God, by word and by deed, to rebuke on every side the phrenzy of the hour.

9. The particular mode in which this recognition of the common right of all the States in the national Territories, should be made; and the particular way and extent to which practical efficacy shall, at the moment, be given to that recognition: do not appear to us to be matters of very high importance in themselves, or matters which it is necessary that we should discuss here. An effectual law, and its effectual execution, concerning the rendition of fugitive slaves; a sincere recognition of the common right of all the States in the national domain, and the mutual abandonment by the North and the South of all claim and attempt to make all the Territories either free or slave: it is upon these points that a good understanding will settle all the rest—and that a refusal to come to such an understanding will throw upon those so acting the whole responsibility of all that may follow. The foregone conclusions of political parties, and the previous committals of public men, are utterly insignificant in any true appreciation of the interests now at stake. The propounding of particular theories, or of special lines of policy, or of lists of propositions, or anything of the sort—by State Legislatures, by resolutions in Congress, by Conventions of the people, or in any other way—where the design or the effect is to embarrass or to obstruct the indispensable settlement, is either a great weakness, or a covert attempt to prevent any settlement. The demand of either party to have a division of the Territories that is grossly unequal, is that far unjust, and a manifestation of the same spirit of claiming all, which has already wrought so much mischief. And with a million or two of square miles of national domain, not yet embraced in any State, with a country large enough to contain fifty or a hundred times its present population—and with instant difficulties which have already produced the most terrible calamities, and whose early settlement may be indispensable to the prevention of universal revolution; the purpose to make that settlement depend upon an explicit agreement concerning the disposition we will hereafter make of foreign States, which we may possibly conquer or purchase at some future day, can be considered nothing else than a purpose of preventing the possibility of any settlement. Beyond all doubt, if the free States consider that the main use of our Constitutional Union and our continued national existence, is the extinction of negro slavery on this continent; or if the slave States consider that the chief value of those incalculable advantages lies in the use of them for the indefinite extension of slavery; the knell of our destiny is struck—and our glory, our felicity, and our triumph are as a tale that has been told.

The Trustees have declared the usual Scrip Dividend of THIRTY PER CENT. on all policies for the whole term of life now in force, which were issued twelve months prior to January 1st, 1861. They have also directed the redemption in cash of dividends declared in the years 1856, 1857, 1858, and 1859, on and after the first Monday in March, to those holding certificates, upon presentation at the Home Office; and those having credits will be allowed the same upon their notes at settlement of next premium.

The Board of Trustees submit their Sixteenth Annual Report, showing the situation of the Company on the first day of January, 1861, by which it will be seen that the accumulation has now reached upwards of Two Millions of Dollars. All of its assets are securely invested, yielding a large and constantly increasing revenue. It is gratifying to know that the subject of Life Insurance is receiving, from year to year, more general and favorable attention, and that its influence is now rapidly extending over every section of the country, and they believe the more it is examined, and the more its advantages are appreciated, the greater will be the number of those who will seek to participate in the benefits of so safe and judicious an investment.

The Trustees have for a considerable time had under consideration, a plan for the gradual redemption of dividends, and for the purpose of maturing such a system, have concluded to discontinue the payment of interest, and in lieu thereof to declare a scrip dividend of 3 per cent. upon all policies in force, and which were issued twelve months prior to January 1st, 1861, and to pay in cash on demand, and upon surrender of the scrip, the dividends of years 1856, 7, 8, and 9, and where credits have been given, to allow the amount thereof in reduction of notes at the next renewal of policies. It is the design of the Trustees to extend this system to all outstanding dividends, as soon as the necessary arrangements can be made, and which will probably be within the next sixty days, when they will advise their policy holders and agents of the details of said plan, which the Trustees confidently believe will meet the approval of all parties interested in it, as it will enable them to realize during their life the profit arising from their investments, and where credits have been given, gradually to reduce the notes which are now charged against their policy.

WEBSTER'S GALLERY HAS always been the leading and most successful Gallery in the West and it is surprising to what perfection they have now brought this Beautiful Art. We were not aware until we visited this famous Gallery a few days since, and saw the walls completely covered with elegant and truly artistic gems of Portraiture, of every size and style, and all seeming so perfectly lifelike; we say that all that the Messrs. Webster say in the papers is really true. But half has not been told.

LOUISVILLE
Private Medical Dispensary,
Conducted on the European Plan,
For the Cure of all Private Diseases.

YOUTH & MANHOOD

Those afflicted with any disease of a private nature, who would escape the imposition of ignorant quacks, should not fail to read "DR. GATES'S PRIVATE MEDICAL TREATISE ON SEXUAL DISEASES," a new and revised edition of one hundred pages, handsomely illustrated with plates and engravings representing the genital organs of both sexes in a state of health and disease. Treating on all private diseases incident to both sexes, such as general nervous and sexual debility, solitary habits, seminal weakness, impotence, &c. Price by mail TEN CENTS.
DR. GATES has for many years devoted his whole time and attention to the treatment of diseases of a private nature in all their varied and complicated forms. His success in those long standing and difficult cases, such as were formerly considered incurable, is sufficient to commend him to the afflicted as worthy of the extensive practice which he has heretofore received. And he pledges to spare neither time nor expense to render himself proficient in the profession of his adoption.
Those who believe they have contracted disease should make immediate application, as, by his recent discoveries, he is enabled to cut short all cases in a few days.
YOUNG, MIDDLE-AGED, and OLD MEN, who, by indulging in solitary habits or excessive indulgence of their passions, have produced SEMINAL WEAKNESS or an ability in advance of their years, may be restored to their former health and vigor by making immediate application.
TO THE LADIES.—Dr. Gates is agent for M. LA CROIX'S FRENCH PREVENTIVE POWDERS. By their use, those who, from any cause, wish to limit the number of their offspring, can do so without danger to health or constitution. Price by mail, $3 and two postage stamps.
Also, for MADAME CAPRAU'S FEMALE MONTHLY PILLS—a safe and effectual remedy for Irregularities, Obstructions, &c. Price by mail, $1 and one postage stamp.
CAUTION.—These pills should not be taken during pregnancy, as they are sure to produce miscarriage.
To persons at a distance who wish to be cured at home we will, on receipt of a brief statement of their case, send a list of such questions as we would ask on a personal interview; and, on receipt of the list filled out, we will forward medicines particularly adapted to the case, free from damage or observation, to any part of the country with full directions for use.
Consultations may be had from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M. (on Sunday from 9 to 11 A. M.) at his office, northeast corner of Third and Market streets, up stairs—private entrance on Third street Louisville, Ky.
☞ The above business will hereafter be conducted under the name and style of DR. H. G. MILLER & CO., to whom all orders and letters should be addressed. Dr. GATES can, as heretofore, be consulted personally, during business hours, on all diseases on which his book treats.
☞ Secrecy inviolable. Don't forget the name and place. All letters should be addressed to

Scrofula, or King's Evil,
IS a constitutional disease, a corruption of the blood, by which this fluid becomes vitiated, weak, and poor. Being in the circulation, it pervades the whole body, and may burst out in disease on any part of it. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending "from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the rod of Him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children."
One quarter of all our people are scrofulous: their persons are invaded by this lurking infection, and their health is undermined by it. To cleanse it from the system we must renovate the blood by an alterative medicine, and invigorate it by healthy food and exercise. Such a medicine we supply in the most effectual remedy which the medical skill of our times can devise for this everywhere prevailing and fatal malady. It is combined from the most active remedials that have been discovered for the expurgation of this foul disorder from the blood, and the rescue of the system from its destructive consequences. Hence it should be employed for the cure of not only scrofula, but also those other affections which arise from it, such as Eruptive and Skin Diseases, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils and Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Rheumatism, Syphilitic and Mercurial Diseases, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Debility, and, indeed, all complaints arising from vitiated or impure blood. The popular belief in "impurity of the blood" is founded in truth, for scrofula is a degeneration of the blood. The particular purpose and virtue of this Sarsaparilla is to purify and regenerate this vital fluid, without which sound health is impossible in contaminated constitutions.
AYER'S
Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla,

THE NEWS BY TELEGRAPH.—It is rumored that the Hon. John J. Crittenden will receive the appointment to the vacancy on the Supreme bench.

The Hon. Wm. Preston has resigned the mission to Spain.

A proposition was made in the Missouri convention yesterday to hold a convention of representatives from the border slaveholding States of the Union, which had not succeeded, at Nashville.

THE LOUISVILLE ALMSHOUSE.—We have received from Mr. Jos. W. Putnam, Superintendent of the Louisville Almshouse, the following report of the transactions in that institution for the month of February: The number of persons remaining over in the institution for February was 152, of which number 109 were adults, 37 children, under ten years of age, and 6 officers, nurses, &c., connected with the establishment. There were admitted during the month 31 adults and 22 children, and discharged 21 adults and 5 children, leaving the number in the Almshouse March 1st, 182. There were no deaths during the month. The cost per diem for the support of each inmate, including the Superintendent's family, nurses, &c., was eight and a half cents per day.

FINE TOBACCO.—There were sales of excellent tobacco made at the Ninth-street Warehouse yesterday, as will be seen by reference to our commercial column. One hogshead, grown by Mr. G. W. Barton, of Clarke county, brought the handsome sum of $13 50 per hundred, and another, from the same plantation, brought $12 75 per hundred. Another hogshead, grown in Bourbon county, by Mr. Frish, brought $12 50 per hundred. There were other sales made at somewhat lower figures, all indicating, however, that Louisville is the best, as it is the most extensive tobacco market in the Southwest.

A SWINDLER ARRESTED.—Officers Swinney and Kirby arrested Chas. Calhoun in Jeffersonville yesterday upon the charge of complicity in a recent three-card monte swindle on board the steamer Paytona, to which we have made allusion heretofore. In ferreting out the accused the Louisville officers were greatly assisted by the police of Jeffersonville, who have ever been courteous and useful to our local officers when official business has called them to the other side of the river. Calhoun's accomplice has been held to bail in the police court for final trial, and Calhoun himself will be examined to-day.

THE CYCLORAMA OF IRELAND.—Our citizens appear to be just beginning to show their appreciation of this excellent entertainment, as there was a fine attendance at Mozart Hall last evening. The views, however, are not the only, nor even the main attraction to us, as the vocal and instrumental music by Mr. MacEvoy's interesting family is indeed charming. By request Miss Kate will sing "The Star Spangled Banner" this evening, and from our knowledge of her capacity, the piece will be grandly sung.

SEVENTH AND EIGHTH WARDS.—There was a large and respectable meeting of the Association of the Citizens and Workingmen of the Seventh and Eighth Wards last night. The Association made the following ward tickets: Seventh Ward, for Councilmen—Dr. G. W. Ronald and John G. Baxter. For School Trustee—Geo. W. Morris. Eighth Ward, for Alderman—Joseph Gault. For Councilmen—R. P. Lightburn and Wm. Drysdale. For School Trustee—Daniel McCullough.

THE DEAD ALIVE.—A report in New Albany recently has gained circulation to the effect that a man by the name of Henry W. Kelly, of that city, had been hung at Bayou Sara some time during the month of January. One man, says the Ledger, who said he was with Kelly, reported that he saw him taken from a coffee-house in Bayou Sara, beaten unmercifully, and afterwards hung to a tree by a mob for hallooing for Lincoln. Other reports of a similar character reached the ears of his family and friends, and he was given up by them as dead. Imagine the surprise and joy of his wife, children, and friends on meeting the man, face to face, that was reported to be dead. Kelly arrived safely on the steamer Baltic, from the South on Tuesday, in the best of health, and says he has never had a harsh word with any one since he left home last December. He was engaged at work on a bridge in Louisiana at good wages, and did not write to his friends from the fact that his work was a great distance from a post-office. He speaks in high terms of the Southern people in general, and regrets very much that his absence caused so much trouble.

☞Our city Board of Aldermen have presented the theatre as a nuisance. When we consider that the city has taxed this "nuisance" $300 a year, it is a question whether it has tried to abate or been participant in the nuisance. The Board of Aldermen are centuries behind the age in promulgating their childish decision.

THE THEATRE.—There was a good attendance upon Miss Rainforth's benefit last evening, but it was not so good as we supposed her great merits would secure. We are to have another taste of the quality of the company this evening in two attractive pieces, "The Willow Copse" and "The Goose with the Golden Egg."

☞At the exhibition at Mozart Hall last evening Misses Marie and Kate MacEvoy were each made the recipients of a handsome compliment in the form of a bouquet, which were presented by two children. The informality and absence of all stage effect excited everybody's admiration, and "brought down the house."

☞A fellow named Welsh has been convicted at Indianapolis of extorting some $200 from Rev. David Stevenson, and sentenced to five years imprisonment in the penitentiary. Mrs. Ford, his principal accomplice, was sent for three years, and another woman, Jennie, to thirty days in the county jail.

☞The Democrat speaks approvingly of "Bestor's Golden Pens." To our writing Bestor's pens are the worst we have ever known. Joe Lana is the Kentucky agent, and Joe, presuming him to be the ex-Senator from Oregon—not to put too fine a point upon it, is as mean as the pens.

SHOOTING AFFRAY.—An affray occurred at the depot of the Louisville and Nashville Railroad yesterday between Messrs. W. Hoblitzell and Robert Roe, in which the former received a pistol shot in the fleshy part of the thigh. His injuries were but slight.

☞The retiring act of Mr. Buchanan, in commuting the sentence of his old friend and neighbor, Judge Vondersmith, of Lancaster, who had been sentenced to twenty years' imprisonment and the payment of $20,000, for forging applications for land warrants, will, we think, be justified by the country. He has expiated his offence by several years of incarceration, and his restoration to society will, we have no doubt, show that he feels most sensitively the degration to which he has been subjected. When his crime was first discovered many were incredulous that a gentleman of his high position should have suffered temptation to win him from the path of probity, and now that the pardoning power has been exercised in his favor, there will be those of his old friends ready to believe that the better angel of human nature will guard his steps in future and point the road to probity and future usefulness.

MORE THEFT.—A correspondent of the Atlanta Intelligencer informs that paper that the Superintendent of the United States Branch Mint at Dahlonega now holds that property, together with $20,000 in gold coin therein contained, for the State of Georgia, under a written order from Gov. Brown.

MR. FESSENDEN OPPOSED TO MR. SEWARD.—Mr. Fessenden, of Maine, is stated to have such ill feelings against Mr. Seward, that when Mr. S. asked that a private bill might be considered, saying that it was probably the last favor he should ask of the Senate, he was curtly opposed or replied to by Mr. F.

DEATH OF AN OLD MERCHANT.—Mr. Wm. W. Fox, one of the oldest merchants of New York city, and President of the New York Gas Company, died at his residence at West Farms on Saturday night, in the 78th year of his age. The deceased was a member of the society of Friends.

THE CROWNING ACT OF VILLAINY.—Mr. Wm. Roselle, one of the editors of the Memphis Appeal, was knocked down while on his way home at a late hour on Friday night, and robbed of the sum of eleven dollars.

ANOTHER ARREST.—John McDowell has been arrested in New York and committed in default of $5,000 bond, charged with complicity in the Boone county (Ind.) bank swindle.

NEW ISSUES.—The Union Bank of Nashville has just issued a new set of notes. The plates are not only handsome but entirely original.

☞The pastoral connection between the First Presbyterian Church of Cincinnati and the Rev. S. R. Wilson has been dissolved.

☞The Hon. C. C. Clay, ex-United States Senator from Alabama, has gone to Minnesota for the benefit of his health.

LECTURE ON ETHNOLOGY.—Prof. B. J. Raphael, late of this city, delivered a lecture on "The plural origin of the human race," on Saturday evening, at the New York Medical College. Were all the races brethren? He believed they were not. To consider that they were would involve the same absurdities, the speaker said, as to believe that our earth was created only 6,000 years ago, or that the stars had been called into being to shine round it, or that all the animals of the world had been derived from pairs saved from the flood in Noah's ark. Where there are physical differences, there will be intellectual differences; and the differences of the races are very marked. The African has a thicker skull than the Caucasian, a much larger proportion of his brain lies behind a perpendicular line drawn through the opening of the ear, the collar-bone is shorter, the fore-arm is considerably longer, in this respect inclining towards the ape, the thigh is longer in proportion to the leg, the legs are often bound, his heel-bone is much longer and less rounded, his toes are greatly turned out. The races are dissimilar in color, in osseous structure, and other characteristics. The Hottentot and the Bushman as nearly resembled the orang-outang as they do the Caucasian race. There is an endless variety in the modes of living. Some live in huts, some in fine houses; some eat snakes; some, to gain the favor of Deity, eat their grandfathers. He denied that climate and habits would account for the varieties of race. History showed that the same differences of race had always existed. They were found represented upon the oldest Egyptian pyramids. It was trifling with the subject to suppose that the negro race had originated in some freak of nature—to assume that "in the flight of ages past a negro baby had been born of white parents," and hence an interminable line of negro babies. The Speaker then dwelt on what he called "the scheme of aptitudes" pervading nature. The law of adaptation disclosed itself in making the black man for Africa as much as in forming the reindeer and polar bear for arctic regions. Under the burning sun of Africa the negro found his highest development, while the white race under the same circumstances withered and became extinct. What the Bible says on the subject was next considered. The narrative of Moses referred to more than one original race. There was no "irrepressible nigger" in the Garden of Eden; this was inhabited by the white race. "This creation of Adam and Eve," said the lecturer, "had reference to the Caucasian race, of which the Jews were a variety." Cain's going off to the land of Nod to get a wife showed that the earth was inhabited by others than Adam's family. So of the murder mark on his forehead—Cain did not dread the anger of his own kindred, but of other inhabitants of the world. The lecturer concluded by referring to various passages of Scripture to show that the phrase "all" and "every one" were not to be taken literally.

POLICE PROCEEDINGS.—Wednesday, March 6. Frank Lightner, Martha Radford John Bowles, Pres. Means, and Mrs. M. Robinson, drunkenness and disorderly conduct. Mrs. Robinson sent to the workhouse for one month in default of $100 bail. The others discharged.

Harvey H. McManus, committed yesterday in default of $300 bail, was brought in and entered into bonds for his appearance in April; thereupon he was discharged from jail.

Docket Cases.—The following named persons were fined for misdemeanors as follows: John Sedge $50, Fred Stevens $50, John Riley $25, George McMullen $100, same $50, John Sweeny $5, same $10.

BARN BURNED.—A large tobacco barn, belonging to Mr. Garrett Quarles, of Christian county, was entirely consumed by fire a few nights ago, together with six hogsheads of tobacco, and a number of farm implements that were in it. It was no doubt set on fire.

☞There is an otherwise perfectly formed chicken cock in Nashville having three distinct legs.

MELANCHOLY RESULTS OF FORTUNE-TELLING.—The Coroner at Cincinnati on Tuesday, held an inquest on the body of Conrad Walter, a young man twenty years of age, who committed suicide on Monday night, by deliberately shooting himself through the head with a pistol. The Gazette says:

> Deceased was always considered a sober, steady, and industrious boy. It was given in evidence before the jury that some years ago he went to a fortune-teller in the city to consult about his fate. The sibyl informed him gravely that as soon as he arrived at the age of twenty he would die or be killed—that he could not possibly live to the age of twenty-one, except, perhaps, in a state of misery and woe, to which he would prefer death. Walter was twenty years of age a couple of weeks since. Happening to be out of employment at the time, he believed the prediction of the fortune teller was about to be verified, if not as regarded his death, at least with regard to the misery of his life. This, it is thought, induced him to commit the act of self destruction, as no other reason can be assigned, and such was in part the verdict of the jury. The case is certainly a sad comment on the amount of faith which young people too often place in the sayings of the unprincipled class alluded to.

To the Editors of the Louisville Journal:

MARION CO., OREGON, Jan. 8, 1861.

The proceedings of the great Union meeting in your city on the 28th of November last, met with a hearty response in this far-off land. Such sentiments well become the chivalrous sons of Kentucky—than whom none are more true to our glorious Union. It is a fact worthy of note that nine-tenths of the people of Oregon are Union men. The idea of a Pacific Republic is only known here in the vaporing and crazed heads of a few broken down politicians. The sentiment here is that the South shall be let alone, as to her domestic institutions. The U. S. Constitution was formed with the "institution" then in force, and, in a spirit of compromise, was tolerated.

The Fugitive Slave Law is a creature of the Constitution; and no State law can abrogate or disannul it. The Supreme Court is the true expounder of all laws passed by Congress. Congress cannot disannul any portion of the Constitution. The President of the United States is a creature of the Constitution and sworn to obey it and all laws enacted under it. If nine-tenths of the people of the United States are Union men; and, if the South have all the protection that the Constitution and Congress and the President and the Supreme Court are bound to give them, what have they to fear? "Old Abe" is one of Kentucky's honest, chivalric, and kind-hearted sons. His administration will be conservative and conciliatory. If the Border States will just hold apart the fire-eaters of the South and the rabid freedom-shriekers of the North, till the superabundance of their gas shall expend itself, all will be well. The Republican party was called into existence from force of circumstances, and the unfortunate split in the Democratic party caused the election of Lincoln, who is a minority President! The man of all others, who should have been elected, was Stephen A. Douglas, whose principles will yet triumph in this nation. There is no actual danger now existing to cause a rupture of our Union. Secession is rebellion and treason. The idea of Congress making war upon any State of this Union is preposterous. Men attainted of treason are fit subjects for the gallows; but their crime cannot extend to innocent persons. This Southern treason may become on a large scale, but the power to suppress and punish it is in the Courts and the Executive. No difficulty was in the way of hanging the notorious John Brown and his partners. A few dozen others should have shared his fate. I am a native of Virginia, and an old-line Clay Whig. Would I say or do anything that would destroy the rights of the South? I am a Union, conservative man, and, as such, feel proud and thankful that I can act with an immense majority of the true sons of America.

But what I am or who I am is of but little importance to the nation. "Our Union must and shall be preserved," was the sentiment of a great man. This noble sentiment is now the watchword of all true men in our nation. If South Carolina be the hot-bed of nullification and disunion, it does not follow that one of the most perfect governments upon which the sun shines should be eclipsed in blood, and the millions of Europe, who have been looking on to witness the triumph of Republican principles here, be forced back to have the chains of despotism more securely riveted upon them. Shades of Washington, Jefferson, Clay, Franklin, and Jackson forbid it! And all true men of our nation will forbid it.

But I have said enough on these matters. Our winter thus far has been most delightful here. No snow and but little frost, mild weather, frogs croaking, buds swelling, grass growing, and other signs of returning spring, tell that we have a good climate. The discovery lately of immense bodies of ore of perhaps lead and silver in this county, may attract many persons here this season. Numerous specimens of this ore have been assayed, and the metal pronounced silver. It is a continuance of the Washoe mines. Very large amounts of our grain crop are yet on hand here. Wheat is worth only sixty cents and oats forty cents at Portland, our emporium of trade, twelve miles up the Willamette river. Late apples sell well now in California. The fruit crop will bring Oregon over three hundred thousand dollars for 1860. There are many natural advantages here, and one day we may number our thousands of people where we do not now number hundreds. Our good health, rich soil and minerals, mild climate, endless water power and bodies of tall timber, extent of navigation, peculiar adaptation to fruit and stock raising here, all invite the citizens of the United States to come here and help to build up a great State. More anon.

MT. STERLING, KY., March 3, 1861.

GENTLEMEN: There has been in circulation here for a day or two past a petition addressed to Gov. B. Magoffin, asking the call of a convention. The very clever and frank gentleman who handed the petition to me stated that similar petitions were being circulated simultaneously with this all over the State. I understand the same gentleman to whom I have alluded, also stated that these petitions were circulated by direction of the "order." When asked what "order," the answer was declined. I think it important that all conservative Union papers should at once expose this thing.

RESIGNED.—Thos. Hoyne, U. S. Marshal for the Northern District of Illinois, has resigned.

FARMERS' MEETING.—A large and highly respectable meeting of the farmers of Woodford and Franklin counties was held at Ducker Station on the morning of the 1th, and embraced the most solid and substantial men in the country.

On motion, John Scott, Esq., was elected president, and Mr. T. Pointer, secretary.

On motion of Walter N. Ayers, Esq., a committee consisting of the following gentlemen, Messrs. T. J. Ford, Will. Gibson, W. B. Risk, W. N. Ayres, J. H. Crutcher, and H. H. Gratz, was appointed to report resolutions; and on their report the following were unanimously adopted, amidst most enthusiastic applause:

WHEREAS, There is great apprehension in the minds of good men, in regard to the condition of the country, and believing it to be the duty of all loyal citizens to do all in their power to discourage everything like sectional hostility, and to prevent men, of a common country, a common blood, and common interests, from being dragged into an immoral and fratricidal war, thereby presenting a spectacle afflicting to the heart of every philanthropist, disgusting to all who love human freedom and entertain hope in the capability of man for self-government, and depriving the struggling millions of the old world of a living protest against despotism or anarchy; and believing there are no insuperable obstacles to an honorable adjustment of all political differences which now afflict the nation; believing farther, that religion, morality, patriotism—all the duties of citizenship, and all the charities of society and of family, require at the hands of every American citizen who loves his country, whatever of talent or effort he can exert for the preservation of our ever glorious institutions; and believing in the virtue, patriotism, and integrity of the great mass of the American citizens, but especially in those of kindred pursuits with our own, who have houses to be burned and fields to be made desolate by most unnatural war; and deprecating such as the greatest calamity with which an outraged Heaven ever chastised a backsliding people; and believing there is every motive which can influence the action of honorable and good men for the agriculturalists, who form the great bulk of the population of these States, to become the conservators of the country amid the perils that now environ it. And remembering that our own good Commonwealth has always lent largely of her statesmanship to pilot the General Government through every storm that imperiled it; and that the sons of Kentucky now occupy the most prominent positions before the country, whether for evil or for good, among whom the most honorable are the gallant Anderson and the pacific and ever venerated Crittenden; and believing that her voice should never lose its influence over her sons, even in distant and protracted exile, but should come to them as some Evangel, even as the "voice of the mother to her child that strays, bewildered, among unknown tumults." Therefore, be it by us, agriculturalists and farmers of the counties of Franklin and Woodford, and State of Kentucky, in convention assembled,

Resolved, That the farmers of all sections, North and South, East and West, be invited to hold meetings, without the intervention of demagogues or politicians, and give voice to their abhorrence of all sectional agitations, and the introduction into the political arena of any subjects that tend to alienate the people of one section of this country from those of another.

Resolved, That we tender to the Hon. John J. Crittenden our most cordial and hearty thanks for his unceasing efforts at a pacification of our national difficulties, and recognize in him a son in whom Kentucky feels the sincerest pride and pleasure; and that although full of honors and of years, and at a period of life when men usually lay aside the cares of office, yet, in view of the calamities which are impending over the nation, and the necessity of Kentucky being worthily represented in the national councils, we beg of him to forget awhile his infirmities, and consent to represent this, the 8th Congressional district, in Congress, and heartily recommend him to our fellow citizens of the district for that position.

Resolved, That, should it become the settled determination of the authorities of any of the States or of the Federal Government to precipitate the country into civil war, we recognize the right and imperative duty of the people to revolutionize such Government, and to depose such authorities as more odious and tyrannical than the despotisms of the old world.

Resolved, That we regard the animosities that have sprung up between the different sections of the country as purely a politicians war, promoted and encouraged by demagogues and political desperadoes, the more easily to plunder the people; and who, like camp followers and vultures, avoid the dangers of the day of battle, but who rob the dying and the dead and will fatten upon the fratricidal carnage.

Resolved, That we regard the farmers and agriculturists of every section of our land as "friends, countrymen, and lovers," and bound together by the most sacred and indissoluble ties of blood, religion, and mutual public good; and that we regard any who would bring them into hostile attitude as enemies of "God and their native land," and deserving the execrations of an outraged humanity.

Resolved, As the country has been brought to the brink of ruin by placing the reins of government in the hands of demagogues and political charlatans, who have used their trust for the most nefarious purposes, and in their insane struggle for place and power have inflamed section against section, and have vituperated and slandered each to the other, till the people have become lashed to madness from reiterated calumny, that it is the duty of all good men to withdraw their confidence from any who have been implicated in this most "foul conspiracy," and speedily to put an end to this reign of demagoguism and seek to know each other better, for we believe they would love each other more.

Resolved, That, as a servile insurrection has been threatened upon one section, and extermination upon the conservative citizens, or "tories," as they are derisively termed, of the other section, by fanatics, extremists, and traitors, we hereby tender moral and material aid to either when these men's insane threatenings shall be attempted to be put in execution.

Resolved, That all papers friendly to a peaceful settlement of national difficulties, but especially the agricultural press, be requested to publish the proceedings of this meeting.

To the Editors of the Louisville Journal:

MURRAY, KY., Feb. 26, 1861.

At our Equity and Criminal Court yesterday, Senator Irvan, and Representative Coleman made their excuse for voting against raising the flag of their country over the dome of the Capitol at Frankfort—pitched generally and promiscuously into the Union party of Kentucky, denounced the Douglas party particularly, as having gone over and joined the opposition party, made a flimsy and unsatisfactory excuse for voting against the resolutions in honor of Hon. John J. Crittenden for his patriotic services, repeated the usual stale arguments of disunionists generally, and after thus consuming two and a half hours, Mr. Ward offered a resolution endorsing the course of these gentlemen in the last session of the Legislature, when to their utter astonishment and discomfiture, only about a dozen ayes were heard, and about as many noes from the vast crowd. Never did gentlemen get a more severe though silent rebuke. After this Judge Williams addressed the large crowd who were determined to hear him, although the secessionists had tried to weary out the crowd so as to prevent Judge Williams from being heard, but the hearty cheers and responses elicited in a few minutes after he began, showed that the hearts of the people were for the Union, the Constitution, and their rights.

And if ever an oath-bound, secret, military, political conspiracy got their deserts, the Knights of the Golden Circle got it on this occasion. His remonstrance to the old democracy against being led into this conspiracy was superior indeed. He showed the striking points of similarity between this and the Burr conspiracy; that each began under the specious pretext of taking Mexico, when in reality it was to dismember this Union.

His eulogy on the brave Union men of Kentucky and the other Slave States, who had stood by the Union, was glowing, whilst his denunciation of the high and empty pretension of the seceding States was scathing. He then turned on the secessionists of Kentucky, who were willing to degrade Kentucky in the eyes of the world, and denounce her and the Union party as "submissionists" and "dirt eaters," and drew a contrast between the men who had stood bravely by the Union and the Constitution, and still fighting and defying the extremists of the North, and demanding their constitutional rights, and those secessionists who had become alarmed and run off from the Government when they had a majority in both branches of Congress, and a majority of a million of the votes with them; and if ever a party was wholly withered and entirely consumed by a comparison, it was here. Such words as "submissionists" and "dirt-eaters" will not be used again by secessionists, I presume. The Union party here are anxious that Judge Williams should become the Union candidate for Congress. He was raised in this county—practised law here for ten years. The people know him well—have the most unbounded confidence in his integrity and ability—indeed, they are proud of him—and if he should be their candidate, Calloway will give an immense Union majority, not less than seven to eight hundred. They will indeed give a large majority for any Union man who is acceptable to the party.

The first Congressional District will give a large majority for the Union candidate for Congress. This may be regarded as certain, although I know many representations to the contrary have been industriously circulated through the disunion papers of the State, for this has been a part of their tactics to misrepresent their strength everywhere.

Whilst Calloway has been constantly published as unanimously for secession, we had a fair trial of strength on the fourth Monday of February, and then beat them about 450 to about 50; and then last Monday we had a demonstration that showed the Union party to have four to one.

TWIGGS DISGRACED.—The following is the official order of the War Department, in the case of General Twiggs:

GENERAL ORDERS—NO. 5.

WAR DEPARTMENT, ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE, WASHINGTON, March 1, 1861.

The following order is published for the information of the Army:

WAR DEPARTMENT, March 1, 1861.

By the direction of the President of the United States it is ordered that Brigadier-General David E. Twiggs be, and is hereby dismissed from the Army of the United States, for his treachery to the flag of his country in having surrendered, on the 18th of February, 1861, on the demand of the authorities of Texas, the military posts and other property of the United States in his Department and under his charge.

At a meeting of the Union men of the Eighth Ward, held at the Rescue Engine house on the 6th inst., the following gentlemen were appointed delegates to the approaching Union Convention, viz: Samuel Browning, George Irvin, George P. Williams, H. H. Higdon, W. H. Frazier, H. J. Billings, N. Sparks, Columbus Hare, J. M. Alexander, L. P. Porch, W. W. Twyman, and George Meadows.

[By telegraph to the Cincinnati papers.]

BALTIMORE, March 5.

It is said that Lord Lyons, the British Minister, has notified the new Administration that Great Britain will not recognize a blockade of the Southern ports, unless it is thorough and effectual, and that the mere announcement of a blockage in accordance with the treaty of Paris will not be recognized. It is understood that Mr. Mercier, the French Minister, will give the same notification to the Government in regard to France.

WASHINGTON, March 5.

Secretary Holt published to-day an overwhelming expose of the treason of the late Secretary, Thompson. The following are the material points:

We have here a distinct exultant avowal on the part of the Hon. Secretary, that while yet a member of the Cabinet he disclosed to those in open rebellion against the United States, information which he had derived from his official position, and which he held under the seals of a confidence, that from the beginning of our history as a nation, had never been violated. This step not merely endangered the highest public interests, but put in imminent jeopardy the lives of two hundred and fifty innocent men, who had never wronged the Hon. Secretary, and who in proceeding to Charleston harbor were simply obeying the lawful command of their superior officers. The armed enemies of the Government he was serving, under the solemn sanctions of an oath, were as he declares thus put upon their guard, and the frail vessel that was bearing succor to its friends, received a warm welcome from booming cannon.

It is well known that a persistent falsification of the policy and conduct of the late administration in its relations to the South has proved a potent instrumentality for inflaming the popular mind of that distracted portion of our country, and thus giving an ever-increasing impetus to the revolution. And the fact that the telegraph and the press have been under the absolute direction of those controlling this movement, has rendered resistance to this instrumentality impracticable. Whatever purposes, therefore, were expected to be accomplished by the circulation of the paragraph which has been exposed, will probably be attained, since the antidote now offered cannot possibly pursue the poison into all its ramifications. If, however, this explanation shall secure to me the confidence of those true-hearted patriots who still love our Union better than all the spoils and power which revolution can promise them, I shall not regard the condemnation of men who for the last two months have incessantly denounced me throughout the South, simply and solely because I have refused to blacken my soul with perjury by betraying the government of my country while in its service.

A CONSUMPTIVE LIFE SAVED.—Consumption primarily and essentially due to a disordered nutrition, can be rationally attacked only by medicines which renovate the nutritive powers. Such a medicine is the PERUVIAN SYRUP, whose chief ingredient acts directly and immediately on the blood, and arrests the diseases safely and surely:

BALTIMORE, July 15, 1854.

I was suffering with a severe Catarrhal Cough, accompanied by Nightsweats, loss of Appetite and great Debility, which was daily increasing. In this state I commenced taking the Peruvian Syrup. In a few days, and before I had used the second bottle, my cough lessened, night sweats ceased, appetite was restored, and with it strength and vigor beyond what I had enjoyed for ten years, being able to walk several miles each day without fatigue, while hitherto I could walk only a short distance. A CARD.

UNITED STATES HOTEL, Oct. 2, 1860.

To Mr. Hugh Wilkins:

The carpet lining put down for us by you is the only thing of the kind that we have ever seen that we would care to have put under our carpets. So much are we pleased with it, that we would be very unwilling to have another carpet (old or new) put down without it. The difference between a room where it is used and where it is not is so striking as to arrest the attention of the most unobservant. It is worth more than its cost in the increased softness and pleasantness it gives the carpet, and we think you do not overrate its economy in stating that it adds one-half to the carpet's wear.

If our recommendation of it will add anything to your sales, we cheerfully give it, feeling we do your customers a much greater kindness than we do you. HALL & HARRIS.

THE FAMINE IN KANSAS.

Appeal for the Destitute from the New York City Committee.

WM. C. BRYANT, Chairman. — J. E. WILLIAMS, Treasurer.

Chas. H. Marshall, Seth B. Hunt, R. H. McCurdy, Morris Ketchum, G. C. Bronson, Chas. W. Elliott, Daniel Lord, Daniel Drew, J. S. Wadsworth.

It has become our imperative duty to urge upon the public attention the fact—that over 40,000 of our fellow-citizens in Kansas are now in imminent danger of starving. We have the evidence from all sources—from Gen. Pomeroy, Chairman of the Territorial Relief Committee, from the columns of nearly every newspaper there, of all shades of politics—from our own reliable agent who has just returned. There was no doubt of the misery, terrible, wide-spread, destructive.

We have evidence that whole families have already died of starvation; and that thousands more must lie down discouraged, and die of want and disease consequent upon it, unless prompt and thorough relief is at once supplied. Congress is now attempting to sustain the starving Indians, but our 40,000 fellow-countrymen—men, women, and children—can neither get away from the desolation, nor borrow, nor beg. Their only dependence is upon us who have never known hunger.

THEY MUST BE SUSTAINED. Will you help us to help them?

To assure you that whatever you do will reach them, we state that in every destitute township is a Relief Committee—these are all represented by the Territorial Committee as follows:

TERRITORIAL COMMITTEE.

S. C. Pomeroy, Atchison; W. W. Guthrie, Brown county; J. C. McDowell, Leavenworth; Rev. C. Reynolds, Lawrence; Rev. L. Bodwell, Topeka; Dr. S. Ayers, Linn county; F. P. Blake, Junction City; C. B. Lines, Wabaunsee; F. B. Baker, Centralia; Rev. Wm. Bishop, Saline; Judge N. Spaulding, Jefferson county; J. C. Burnett Bourbon county; J. C. Lambdin, Butler county; Geo. M. Russell, Wyandotte.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

S. C. Pomeroy, Chairman; J. C. McDowell, Rev. C. Reynolds, Rev. L. Bodwell, F. P. Baker.

S. C. Pomeroy, Corresponding Secretary.

G. H. Fairchild, Treasurer.

Gen. Pomeroy is Chairman, and at Atchison devotes his whole time and energy, with assistants, to the receipt and distribution of all contributions of food and clothing, all of which are delivered upon requisitions of Town Committees, and are distributed through them. This organization is prompt, thorough, and effective and we advise the sending of supplies through it. Money and clothing are needed from us; food can be got in the West.

The names of our Committee appear at the head of this appeal and we hope will be sufficient to induce cooperation. Our Treasurer is John E. Williams, President of the Metropolitan Bank, New York City. All money sent to him will be applied to the payment of Gen. Pomeroy's drafts, on account of freight and sacks. We appeal to you all, by every dictate of humanity, of honor, and of public good, to unite with us in alleviating this great calamity. There is no time to be lost.

FIRST—We ask individuals everywhere to contribute at once, and to urge it upon their friends and neighbors.

SECOND—We appeal to all churches and organized bodies to act promptly, generously, and efficiently.

THIRD—We urge upon EVERY GOVERNOR OF EVERY STATE immediately to bring this matter to the attention of their Legislatures and people. Our last statistics show that nearly $200,000 is needed within the coming fortnight, to supply this people with seed for spring planting. It can only be furnished by State action. Every consideration of interest also demands that this new State should be enabled to become self-sustaining, productive, and eventually rich—thus to fulfill her destiny, and to help others, as we are now helping her.

We ask, therefore, every Legislature to do as they would have others do to them in like distress, and at once to grant ample supplies.

All money sent to our Treasurer JOHN E. WILLIAMS, Metropolitan Bank, New York City, will be gratefully acknowledged and effectively used.

All clothing should be sent to "GEN. POMEROY, Atchison, Kansas" and freight should be prepaid.

☞CHILLS AND FEVER! CHILLS AND FEVER!—One of the greatest remedies that has ever been laid before the public for Fever and Ague, and which have received the highest encomiums from the press and the people, is DR. J. HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED BITTERS. Who would endure the tortures arising from this terrible disease when it can be so easily cured? Who would endure sleepless nights, burning fevers, and icy chills, alternately, when a remedy can be obtained for a mere trifle? And yet how many families linger out a painful existence under this deadly blight, and do nothing but gulp down quinine, until it becomes as common as their daily meals, and yet they are not relieved! None but the foolish and weak would hesitate to procure these valuable Bitters and save themselves intense agony. Sold by all druggists and dealers generally everywhere. f3 dlm

TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

From the Evening Bulletin.

WASHINGTON, March 5.

Maj. Anderson, up to 1th March, has continued to speak of his condition as safe, and to express his opinion that reinforcements had better not be sent to him.

The point of difference between the two houses on the bill reorganizing the Patent Office was in reference to the extension of patents. The House had amended it, providing that no patent should be reissued when the Commissioner was satisfied that both the inventor and assignee had netted $100,000. The Senate amended the bill by confining that amount of profit to the inventor alone. The Committee of Conference consisted of Douglas, Cameron, Fitch, of the Senate, and Cox, Frank, and Barr, of the House, who adopted in place of what is above stated the following:

All patents hereafter granted shall remain in force seventeen years from the date of issue, and all extension of such patents is hereby prohibited. The bill was thus passed. It stops all the corruption and intrigue as to present patents in Congress, and all patents granted after this passing cannot be renewed at the patent office.

The drafts drawn by ex-Secretary Dix on the Assistant Treasurer at New Orleans to pay for work done on the custom-house, and also the drafts by ex Postmaster General King on the same officer in connection with the postal service amounting to between $200,000 and $300,000, have been returned unpaid.

The resignations to Mr. Buchanan of his Cabinet officers were to take effect on the fourth of March, or until their successors were appointed, consequently they have been attending to the business until the closing hours of their respective departments here to-day.

Gen. Dix will return to New York on Thursday.

Judge Black will not leave Washington for the present. He remains on private and professional business, and will probably continue to practice law here.

Ex-President Buchanan departed on his journey to Wheatland this morning. He was escorted to the railroad depot by two mounted and two infantry companies, together with the committee from that locality and prominent citizens of Washington. He exchanged many farewell hand-shakings and appeared to be deeply affected by the manifestations of friendship, and when he bowed adieu to the large crowd as the train was about to start, they further testified their respect by three cheers.

The resignation of Mr. Preston, Minister to Spain, was this morning filed in the State Department.

Capt. Lay of Virginia, by local rank a Brevet-Lieutenant-Colonel as an aid to Lieutenant-General Scott, has resigned.

The Republican Senators had a caucus this morning to arrange the standing committees.

A large number of citizens of Kentucky and Indiana are here urging the promotion of Major Robert Anderson as Brigadier-General, vice Gen. Twiggs, who has been stricken from the rolls, as recently published officially, for treachery.

State delegations have all day been calling on the President and Gen. Scott and other distinguished gentlemen. Gen. Scott, in addressing one of the Illinoisans this afternoon, exhorted them to stand by the Union and to cherish feelings of fraternity toward all citizens.

Representative Lovejoy, who occupies apartments in the same house as Gen. Scott, said among other things that Scott saved the Union in 1832 and 1860, paying an eloquent tribute to his bravery and patriotism.

The newly-confirmed Cabinet are over crowded with visitors to-night.

Martin O. Crawford, one of the commissioners from the Southern Confederacy accredited to negotiate with the administration, has arrived here.

Mr. Greely and Senator Grimes had a long interview with Mr. Lincoln to day, during which Greely pressed Mr. Fremont for the French mission, and received assurances that there would be no trouble on that point.

Illinois citizens called to day on Mr. Seward, who, among other matters, said: "Gentlemen, if you want to save this administration and have it successful and profitable to the country, I implore you to remember that the battles for freedom have been fought and won. Henceforth forget that freedom was ever in danger, and exert your best influence to save the Union. Let it not be said that the Republican party won its first, last, and only victory over the dissolution of the Union. Remember the way to maintain the integrity of the Republican party is to maintain the Union. The point at which the enemy strikes is always the point you should defend. Freedom is always within the Union."

It is asserted, but doubtfully, that John Bell pronounces the inaugural a declaration of war, and will urge Tennessee to prepare for the conflict.

While the objectionable portions of the address were being delivered, several Southern gentlemen telegraphed Gov. Pickens not to attack Fort Sumter until after the action of the Confederate States.

Mr. Seward, in reply to the Massachusetts delegation, said he hoped and believed that before the close of the present administration, Massachusetts and South Carolina would again grasp hands of fellowship.

The Treasury will not pay anything until Mr Chase assumes his position. A large amount of claims have passed since Friday, when Mr. Dix declined paying any more.

Mr. Lincoln requested of Cameron to appoint Ellsworth Chief Clerk of the War Department.

An animated discussion took place at the white house to-day on the propriety of transferring Bates to the Supreme Court, and putting N. C. Gilmer in the Cabinet.

Mr. Seward was summoned to the white house late last night. The impression is that it related to news from Fort Sumter.

Mr. Buchanan yesterday ordered the court martial of Capt. Pope to be discontinued.

Official despatches from Mexico announce the appointment of Gen. Trago envoy to Washington. The difficulties between France and Mexico had been satisfactorily arranged, but that with Spain, touching the expulsion of Senor Pacheco, remained unsettled.

It is understood that Mr. Lincoln will decline any conference with the Commissioners from the Southern Confederacy, on the ground that he regards the seceding States as still in the Union.

RICHMOND, VA., March 5.

The Whig (conservative) says the policy indicated towards the seceding States will meet the stern and unqualified resistance of the united South. The Enquirer (secessionist) says that no action of our Convention can now maintain peace. The Dispatch says every Border State ought to go out of the Union in twenty four hours. Dispatches from Staunton state that the Inaugural was received with universal dissatisfaction. Resistance to coercion is the feeling of all parties. The inaugural creates intense excitement. The secessionists regard it as a declaration of war. The Union men say but little, but evidently are disappointed.

ROCHESTER, March 5.

John C. Nash, Republican, has about 600 majority for Mayor. All the Republican city ticket is elected except the police justice. The Republicans elect eight Aldermen and the Democrats 1, which makes the Common Council 15 Republicans and 9 Democrats. The city supervisors will stand about the same as Aldermen, possibly—5 Democrats to 7 Republicans.

The Inaugural was anxiously waited for here, and was received with almost universal satisfaction. The Daily Democrat, which has opposed compromise, warmly indorses, while the Democratic organ gives it a qualified approval.

ALEXANDRIA, VA., March 5.

The Gazette (Union) says the inaugural is not such a one as it wished nor such as will conciliate or satisfy those who Mr. Lincoln speaks of as dissatisfied in the South.

The Sentinel (secession) says the positions taken are a declaration of war, laying down doctrines which would procure for the Southern section the unquestioned dominion as a section.

GOLDSBORO, N. C., March 5.

The inaugural was received at this place and throughout this section with indignation.

ST. LOUIS, March 6.

The Convention met at 10 o'clock. Various resolutions declining co-operation with Georgia were referred to the committee of seven, appointed yesterday to report upon a communication to Commissioner Glenn. Resolutions in reference to coercion, secession, and co-operation of the Border free and slave States were referred to the Committee on Federal Relations. Among the resolutions was one by Ex Gov. Stewart, that no overt act has been committed by the Federal Government to justify either nullification, secession, or revolution; also one by Judge Orr, that we have the best Government in the world and intend to keep it. A resolution looking to the amendment of the State Constitution was tabled. A resolution to refer the President's inaugural to the Committee of the Whole, after debate, was withdrawn. The Convention has adjourned till ten o'clock to-morrow.

WASHINGTON, March 6.

The delegations from Indiana and Maine severally paid their respects to the President this morning. In response to their greeting, he made brief but evidently satisfactory addresses.

The commissions of the new Cabinet officers have been signed. Mr. Seward was the first to enter upon the duties of his office at the State Department. It was expected that Secretary Dix would vacate his office to day, but at the request of his successor, Gov. Chase, he holds over till to-morrow. When Mr. Dix entered upon his duties the Treasury was literally bankrupt. There were requisitions on the table from the Department, which there were no means of paying, exceeding $1,900,000; fishing bounties unpaid, amounting to nearly $150,000, and Treasury notes over due amounting to $30,000—in all $2,700,000. These have all been paid. Yesterday the accounts were stated, in expectation of Mr. Chase's entrance on his duties, and they show a balance in the hands of the Treasury and disbursing officers, applicable to the current expenses of the Government, exceeding $6,000,000. These, with the current receipts from the customs, amount to about $80,000 per day in coin, and it is, believed, will enable the incoming Administration to sustain itself without calling for further loans for a considerable length of time.

MONTGOMERY, March 5.

The Southern Congress reassembled to-day. The opening proceedings were unimportant. The Congress has been in secret session most of the day, and to night is again in secret session.

Mr. Lincoln's inaugural address is regarded here as a virtual declaration of war against the seceded States.

CHARLESTON, S. C., March 5.

Our community has not been disappointed and exhibited very little feeling on the subject. They are content to leave Mr. Lincoln and the inaugural in the hands of Jeff Davis and the Confederate States.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., March 5.

The Republicans of all shades are delighted with President Lincoln's inaugural. It satisfies the independent Union men of all parties and few or none were found to object to its temper or position.

PHILADELPHIA, March 5.

A full pardon was not granted to Judge Vondersmith. His term of imprisonment was commuted from 20 to 3 years. His fine was not remitted.

TROY, N. Y., March 6.

Geo. B. Warren, Jr., Union candidate, was elected Mayor of this city to-day. The Union men also elect assessor, justice, and a majority of the council.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., March 5.

James Browne (Rep.) was elected Mayor to-day.

PETERSBURG, VA., March 5

There was intense excitement on the reception of the inaugural. Hundreds hitherto for the Union avowed openly for revolution if the Convention does not immediately pass the secession ordinance.

RALEIGH, N. C., March 6.

The inaugural was received favorably by the Unionists. They think it does well for Lincoln, though they don't approve of all of it. The disunionists are not satisfied with it.

WILMINGTON, N. C., March 6.

So far as known most of the contents of the inaugural are satisfactorily received, especially that part relating to the forts and the collection of the revenues, because they are in favor of coercion.

BOSTON, March 6.

The royal mail steamship America sailed at 9 o'clock this morning with 15 passengers for Halifax and 19 for Liverpool. She takes out no specie.

ELMIRA, N. Y., March 6.

The rivers and streams along the Erie Railroad have not been unusually high, no damage of any kind has been sustained, and trains to all points run regularly and without obstruction.

CINCINNATI, March 6 M.

River risen 5 inches; 21½ feet in the channel. Weather clear. Mercury 50. Smart frost again last night. Milder.

PITTSBURG, March 6 M.

River 14 feet by pier mark and falling. Weather cloudy and cold. Snow this morning.

Reported for the Journal.

XXXVIITH CONGRESS—SECOND SESSION.

WASHINGTON, March 6.

Senate.—Two thousand copies of the tariff bill were ordered to be printed.

Mr. Wilson moved that when the Senate adjourn it be till Monday.

Mr Hunter hoped it would adjourn before, as he wanted to return home before Monday.

Mr. Wilson said he made the motion at the solicitation of several Senators, and had no idea when they would be able to finish their business.

Mr. Dixon offered a resolution that the usual number of the Inaugural be printed.

Mr. Clingman, in giving a seat, did not endorse the sentiments, which, if carried out, lead to war.

Mr. Douglas had come to the conclusion that it was a peace rather than a war message.

Without conclusion the Senate adjourned.

WASHINGTON, March 5.

Mr. Chase called on Mr Lincoln last evening and expressed his hesitation about leaving his seat in the Senate to accept the Secretaryship of the Treasury. Mr. Lincoln urged him to accept, but required an immediate answer, as he desired to have every department of the Government filled at once. Mr. Chase definitely accepted the place this morning and was present at the Cabinet meeting at 10 o'clock.

Mr Seward was at the State Department this morning at 9 o'clock promptly. His son, Frederick W. Seward, who has long been assistant editor of the Albany Evening Journal, was nominated and confirmed to-day as assistant Secretary of State.

Gov. Floyd, ex Secretary of War, arrived to-day to stand his trial before the criminal courts on the charges growing out of the Indian Trust bonds defalcation.

The Committee from the Southern Confederacy have arrived.

John Forsyth, of the Mobile Register, is to be the bearer of despatches to this government.

Jeff Davis has ordered Gen. Beauregard, recently Major in the United States Engineer corps, to proceed to Charleston at once and take command of the forces now raised for the investiture of Fort Sumter.

Previous to the 4th of March, Scott and others received despatches cautioning them to be on the look out for gun-powder plots at the Capitol, in consequence of which there were diligent searches by the police of the buildings.

The President has nominated Norman B. Judd, of Illinois, Minister to Berlin.

The report that Mr. Crittenden is to be appointed to the vacancy in the Supreme Court is generally believed, but it is not certain that the nomination has been made.

The Vermont delegation to-day called on General Scott and Messrs. Seward, Dix, and Bates. Gen. Scott made a speech, in which he thanked Vermont for her Presidential vote in 1852.

NEW YORK, March 6.

The steamer Empire City is taking in army stores, provisions, &c., and coaling with despatch, having been chartered by the government probably for the South.

Port-au-Prince dates of the 15th state that the bark William, of New Orleans, has been seized there as a slaver.

RICHMOND, VA., March 6.

The Convention debated the resolutions instructing the Committee on Federal Relations, offered yesterday, and adjourned.

On motion of Mr. Carlisle, who speaks to-morrow, the report of the Peace Conference was read.

Several series of resolutions of secession, anti-secession, and anti coercion character were referred.

The special committee reported that, in their opinion, there has been no movement of armed men by the Federal Government indicating a purpose of attack or coercion.

ST. LOUIS, March 6.

Among the resolutions offered in Convention this morning and referred to the Committee on federal relations, was one moving that a convention be called of all the Southern States not seceded to meet at Nashville on the 15th of April.

Another, providing for such amendments to the Constitution as shall secure to all States equal rights in the Union.

One declaring that no reason existed why Missouri should secede and that it would be highly injurious to do so.

Another declaring that States having once bound themselves together could not dissever their connection at pleasure.

Another that Missouri adopt a policy according to her true interests and invite other Western States to join her in the effort to maintain a peaceful and unbroken Union of the States.

Col. Doniphan offered a resolution that any attempt to use coercion by the federal government would inevitably result in civil war and military despotism.

MONTGOMERY, March 6.

On motion of Mr. Curry, the Judiciary Committee was instructed to inquire into the expediency of prohibiting the importation of blacks into the Confederacy from the United States, except owned by persons emigrating for settlement and residence.

The Congress then went into secret session.

FORT SMITH, ARK., March 6.

This city, heretofore strongly Union, has, since the reception of the President's Inaugural, quite reversed its political sentiments. The citizens consider it a declaration of war. Prominent men hitherto Union have advised members of the convention to go for the secession ordinance forthwith.

WASHINGTON, March 6.

The California delegation paid their respects to Lincoln this evening.

NEW ORLEANS, March 6.

Texas has ratified the secession ordinance by 40,000 to 45,000 majority. It is reported that Gov. Houston resigns.

DETROIT, March 6.

At Lansing, on receipt of Lincoln's Inaugural, the Legislature took a recess to hear it read. One hundred guns were fired in honor of the sentiments therein expressed.

MILWAUKIE, March 6.

A fire this morning at Berlin destroyed the store of Coharts & Andrews, and the Kruge Hotel and the dwelling house of Mr. Fox. Loss $10,000; insured for $12,000.

ARRIVAL OF THE PONY EXPRESS.

FORT KEARNEY, March 6.

The Pony Express passed here at three o'clock this morning.

San Francisco, Feb. 19.—There is a moderate business doing. Sales of 50,000 sacks of wheat for export at $1 90@2. Money abundant. To-morrow's treasure shipment will be light.

During the present week Fort Point, at the entrance of San Francisco harbor, has been occupied for the first time by U. S. troops.

The Supreme Court in the case of Fremont vs. Flern has decided that a holder under a United States patent and lands under a Mexican grant possess all the precious metals contained in the lands.

The Governor has sent to the Legislature the number of firearms in possession of the State, between only about 5,000 muskets, shot guns, and rifles, generally out of repair.

The prospect of all breadstuffs the coming season is very favorable, and amount sown being much greater than last year.

The Legislature has done nothing important the past week. There has been an alliance on the Senatorial question between the Breckinridge and Douglas Democrats. Fifty-five of the fusionists met in caucus in Sacramento last evening. They were three less than a majority of the Legislature which has in both Houses 115 members. The fusionists are in favor of Denver, and his friends expect additional support. It is apparently an even chance that no election can take place this session, as there is danger that a coalition party will have a majority of the Senate and the other a majority in the Assembly so that no joint convention can be called.

The last Pony Express dates received are to the 5th of February, with glowing news on the Union question. All classes of people in San Francisco will join in a Union celebration on the 22d of February. Business will be generally suspended.

The latest news from Victoria is to the 9th, and from Oregon to the 11th of February.

The British Colonial Assembly was prorogued by the Governor on the 6th of February. The price of Crown lands is to be reduced to 4 shillings 2 pence per acre.

There had been serious troubles at Rock creek mines about the collection of duties.

News from Oregon is of but little importance. Gold has been discovered in the Shokani country. The Indian disturbances previously referred to proves to have been nothing more than a few petty thefts.

Sandwich Island dates are to the 1th instant, four days later. The sugar crop is just beginning to come in. Sales had been made of 1,000 pkgs of the best quality for shipment at 6¼c. Molasses also coming in in considerable quantity; sales at 20@23c.

The census of 1860 shows a decrease in the native population of 3,935 since 1853, and an increase of foreign population of 598.

DAILY REVIEW OF THE MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE LOUISVILLE JOURNAL, THURSDAY, March 7, 1861.

Monetary affairs are depressed. Applications for accommodations are plentiful, but capitalists are averse to operating. CHEESE—Dull. A sale of 65 bxs Western Reserve cheese at 9½@10c.

BUTTER—Dull. Sales of 900 bbls butter at 14c.

APPLES AND POTATOES. Ordinary demand. Sales of 80 bbls potatoes at $1 40@1 75, and 100 bbls apples at $3.

SHEETINGS Very quiet. Sales of 10 bales at 8¾ @ 9c.

PROVISIONS. Messrs. Stewart & Barter report the following sales: 132 bbls city mess pork at $17 25, 250 bbls country mess pork at $17, 20 bbls rump pork at $12, 80 casks bacon at former rates; 30 Falls City hams at 11¼. 50,000 lbs bacon shoulders at 7½c loose.

TOBACCO. Sales Tuesday of 52 hhds, viz: 12 at $2@$2 95, 11 at $3@3 85, 11 at $4@4 85, 6 at $5@5 95, 4 at $6@6 85, 2 at $7 15@17 25, 1 at $8 15, and 1 at $10.

Sales Wednesday of 71 hhds, viz: 13 at $2 20@2 95, 22 at $3 05@3 90, 7 at $4@4 90, 7 at $5 50@5 95, 11 at $6 20@6 85, 5 at $7@7 60, 3 at $8@8 50, 3 at $9@9 50, 3 at $10@10 25, 2 at $12 a 12 75, and 1 at $13 50.

We clip the following from the Cincinnati Commercial of yesterday:

> Provisions were very quiet, and no article sustained the interest at the hands of operators which it did a few days ago. Holders are firm, however, and are not reported to make any concessions in prices in their offerings. There were small sales of mess pork at $17@17 25. Bacon was sold at 7¼@7½ for shoulders, and 9¼ to 9¾c for sides. The outside figures are generally asked. Bulk meats are held at the same figures, though nothing of consequence was done to day. There is no enquiry for lard with quotations at 10c for tierces.

The New York Herald of Monday says:

> The money market is about the same as before reported. Demand loans are 6 per cent., and sixty-day paper 6@7 per cent. At the same rates it is very choice and short. The bank statement of Monday will show a large increase of loans, probably one and a half to three millions, and a large decline in the specie line, both the result of loans on the new Government stock. The actual increase of loans is about five millions, and the decrease of specie about four millions.
> The foreign bill market is dull but steady. Sterling 104 a 105; francs 5.40 a 5.25.

The St Louis Democrat of yesterday says:

> The demand for pork is slack on account of the impossibility of shipping over the South railroad. Sales of 100 and 200 bbls at mess $18 50, 30 bbls rump at $11 50; 10 casks rib sides packed in salt 8c, and 1,080 pieces clear do in bulk at 8½c.
> In lard there was some movement, but the market was not very active. Sales 230 tierces prime at 10c, 12 tierces do at 9¾c, 40 tierces at 9c, and 92 tierces and 55 kegs at 10c.
> For bacon there was a fair order demand, with sales principally of country lots as follows: and 17 casks country clear sides at 10¼c, 12 casks city ribbed at 9¼c, 6 and 20 casks shoulders at 7¼c, and 6 casks plain hams at 9c.

WHITE & ELDER, Coffee Brokers.

PHILADELPHIA BOOT AND SHOE MARKET.

The Shoe and Leather reporter of the 2d says: Many of the principal cities of the West and South have had buyers in this market during the week, and the amount of sales have largely increased. Some of the manufacturers have been quite busy for several days, filling orders from several of the extreme Southern States, which are accompanied with directions to have the bills made out and the goods shipped before the 28 h instant under the impression that all goods shipped after that date will be charged a tariff of 21 per cent. This movement has had the effect of stimulating trade for the time among the manufacturers, and many of them are making up more work than they could. There is less hesitation in prices than during the first weeks of the season, although a cash buyer could undoubtedly make good bargains, as the stock on hand is not large enough to necessitate the sell g of goods below the cost of production. There are few buyers from Tennessee, Missouri and other Western States, but the sales to this part of the country are not large. A fuller representation is expected during the first weeks in March, when a full average trade from these States is looked for, as they are then generally clear of goods, and are able to purchase freely.

BALTIMORE TOBACCO MARKET, March 2.

The receipts of the new crop of Maryland are very light, but not more than usual at this early period. The inquiry for this description can hardly be said to be brisk, but nearly all the receipts were taken at full rates. The high rate of freights to Europe may operate somewhat against active sales, but the prospects are that the new crop of Maryland will sell quite freely as soon as an assortment reaches the market. About 6 hhds of the new crop were taken this week within the range of quotations, viz: Inferior and common $2@$3; good common $3 25@4; middling $5@7; good and fine brown $7 50 a $10; extra fine $11@12. Nothing has been done this week in Ohio tobacco. We are not advised of any sales of Kentucky.

COVINGTON (KY.) CATTLE MARKET, March 5.

This market has been extremely dull, during the past week; the arrivals of stock being small with little or no demand. Sales of the week 155 cattle, 136 sheep, 45 hogs.

Quotations. Cattle sell from $2 25 to $3 50; sheep from $3 to $4 25; hogs from $4 50 to $5.

The river will no doubt be rising again at this point to-day. Last evening there was 7 feet 9 inches water in the canal, 5 feet 3 inches in the pass at the falls, and 4 feet 2 inches on the rocks. The weather was clear and more moderate yesterday.

At Pittsburg at noon yesterday the river was falling, with 14 feet water in the channel.

At Cincinnati at the same time the river had risen 5 inches since noon of the previous day.

The Woodford has turned back from Evansville, and is not coming up to this port the present trip.

We learned by telegraph from Memphis yesterday that the steamer Atlantic passed that point at 9 o'clock yesterday morning, about three days out from New Orleans. She will arrive here to-morrow morning and leave again for port on Saturday.

The Monarch and Champion were to have left this port last evening, the latter for Cincinnati and the former for Madison, where she will be drawn out on the ways and repaired.

The fleet and fine Telegraph, Capt. Hildreth, is the mail packet for Cincinnati at noon to-day.

The popular steamer R. M. Patton, Capt Barnard, is the regular packet for the Tennessee River at the usual hour this afternoon.

The John Raine left for New Orleans last evening with a good trip.

The Baltic departed for New Orleans with a fair trip. She has an engagement to take fifty head of cattle from Hawesville.

The Lady Pike, Capt. Hurd, is advertised for the Cumberland River at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

The J. W. Cheeseman, Capt. Ketchum, will leave for St. Louis at noon to-day.

The Atlanta is due from below to-day, and will pass up for Cincinnati. Returning, Capt. J. H. Archer will take command of her, and she will enter the Louisville and Memphis trade permanently.

LOUISVILLE JOURNAL

THE ARCTIC BANK.—The Wisconsin State Journal advises the holders of bills of the Arctic Bank, located at Eau Claire, in that State, which have lately been thrown out by the Milwaukee and Chicago bankers, not to make, as yet, any sacrifice of the same, as it has been reliably informed that the owners of said Bank intend, within two or three days, to make its account good under the late call of the Bank Comptroller. In that case its bills are as valuable as those of other banks based on Southern securities, as many of the Wisconsin banks are.

MAD DOG.—The Georgetown Journal says that considerable alarm has been felt during the past week, in the neighborhood of Turkeyfoot, in Scott county, because of the appearance there of a mad dog. The dog came from Raven's Creek, in Grant county, and it is thought that no dog, in a large circuit of country, with whom he came in contact, escaped his bite. The dog was finally killed in Turkeyfoot. Some hundred or more dogs that were bitten have been killed. Several hogs were also bitten.

DEATH OF A NOTED RACE HORSE.—"Mountain Maid," a racing mare well known to horse fanciers and sporting men of Philadelphia, died at Lancaster, Pa., last week. The pony in question had been repeatedly matched against Tacony, the celebrated roan trotter, and the latter was purchased last summer by parties in Cambria county, Pa., to beat Mountain Maid. The supposition is that she was poisoned. Her time was 2:30, and her owners refused $1,000 for her but a short time before her death.

AN EARTHQUAKE IN NEW JERSEY.—The Newark Mercury says that two distinct shocks or concussions were felt in that city, about noon, Tuesday. In Bloomfield bells were rung and houses shaken. In Orange doors were shaken to and fro, while in Paterson, Belleville, and other places there were similar phenomena.

FAILURES AND SUSPENSIONS.—The list of business changes in the United States for the past week gives eight failures and suspensions in New York, seven in Boston, two in Philadelphia, two in Baltimore, two in Cincinnati, and eighteen in other places—total of thirty-nine for the week.

MAJOR ANDERSON'S BILL OF FARE.—The Columbia (S. C.) Guardian says:

A gentleman who was in Charleston last week, and who went over to Morris's Island, informs us that he saw on board the following supplies for Fort Sumpter, which, with his mails, were taken to Fort Sumter by Major Anderson's boats: 2 kegs (200 lb.) Goshen butter, 2 cheeses (50 lbs), 2 barrels potatoes, 1 bag (160 lbs.) coffee, 2 quarters beef, half a mutton, 1 box eggs, 4 boxes candles (40 lbs.), 1 bushel turnips, 1 large package celery, 40 Northern cabbage, 2 barrels assorted vegetables, 1 sack salt, and 1 barrel molasses.

Old Abe says "nobody's suffering." We don't think Major Anderson is, at all events.

☞A correspondent of the Philadelphia Bulletin thinks there must be some mistake in the passage from Pope, so often quoted as follows:

"'Tis education forms the common mind;
Just as the twig is bent the tree's inclined."

Pope evidently had a presentiment of a recent event in Texas, and intended to write:

"'Tis plain, Secession formed the traitor's mind;
Just as the Treason bent, the Twiggs inclined."

CRINOLINE STILL IN THE ASCENDANT.—A Paris letter of February 5 has the following:

Judging from the amplitude of all skirts, the reign of crinoline is far from waning; it holds its sovereignty, notwithstanding the repeated denunciations hurled against it in all quarters. Its implacable foes accuse it of countless misdemeanors; but in spite of the various arguments and accusations against this institution, mankind, as well as womankind, are admirers of crinoline in moderation; it certainly adds to the gracefulness of the drapery, and is a convenient and comfortable support to the volume of jupes, of which the female costume has always been composed, in all eras, under all styles of fashion.

EXTRAORDINARY MODE OF BURIAL.—Terrible Ordeal of Widows.—When a man dies in Vancouver's Island, his body is laid upon a raised platform or couch, erected in the middle of his lodge. Here it is left for nine days to be seen and visited by his tribe; upon the tenth a funeral pile is erected and a great gathering of friendly tribes and families takes place.

The corpse is laid upon the top of the pile, the wife or wives of the deceased lying alongside; here she must remain until the presiding medicine-man permits her to rise, which permission is seldom accorded until she is terribly burned.

Even now her trials are not over; she must collect some of the oily matter which exudes from the burning flesh, and rub it over her own body, and if the limbs (as is frequently the case) of the body contract from the heat, it is her duty to keep them straight, and all this in a blazing fire of gum-wood.

Should the wretched woman get through all this live, she has to collect any remnants of charred bones, and, tying them in a bundle, carry them upon her back, day and night, for three years, at the end of which time she is free to take a second husband—a trial I should scarcely imagine likely to find many brave enough to attempt.

A Negro Thief Drowned in the Mississippi River.—A short time since a negro man belonging to Dr. John D. Martin, of this city, ran away from that gentleman's plantation in Mississippi, and made his way to Australia landing, in Bolivar county. Thursday morning he was approached by a white man, who concluded to steal him. After some coaxing the slave was induced to get in the yawl, which the white man had stolen, and they rowed up the river. That night, during a heavy fog, the yawl was run into by the Victoria, near Sunflower landing, and the inmates were thrown into the river. The thief was drowned, but the negro, through the exertions of the boat's officers, was saved. He has been lodged in jail at Friar's Point.—Memphis Argus.

Sudden Death.—Thomas C. Byron, a well known resident of Charlestown, Mass., died quite suddenly on Wednesday, having been able to walk out on the day previous. Mr. Byron was on board the frigate Constitution in the capacity of fifer at the time of the famous engagement with La Guerriere.

Florida Returning United States Funds.—Mr. Cisco, the assistant treasurer of the United States at New York, has received notice from the sub-treasurer at Charleston, Southern Confederacy, that he had sent by Adams & Co. the balance remaining in his hands to the credit of the collector at Key West.

The dreadful disease, cancer, is now very much treated after Dr. Arnott's plan "of congelation, methodical compression, and cauterization," the knife being pronounced a complete failure.

David Garrick made his first appearance at the Goodman's Fields Theatre, London, in 1763, as "Richard the Third," and took his farewell as "Don Felix," in The Wonder, in 1776.

Judge Allison, of Philadelphia, recently sentenced Thomas J. Armstrong to be hung for the murder of Robert Crawford, of which he had been convicted a few days previously. In his address to the court, Armstrong abused the family of his victim, accused the witnesses of perjury, and concluded by saying: "You may take my life, but not my clear conscience. Thank God I am innocent."

Literature and the shop have often been nearly allied. Richardson kept a stationer's shop, and William Godwin one for the sale of picture books for children. Smollett dealt out pills; Lamb at one time wrote invoices; Keats was behind an apothecary's counter; Wordsworth sold stamps; Hood was in a grocer's shop; Alexander Smith the poet, and now secretary of the Edinburgh University, worked for a pound a week as a pattern drawer in a Glasgow warehouse; Charles Swain was a Manchester clerk, and the great art-critic Ruskin was brought up in a paternal dram shop. Shakspeare himself sold malt and corn.

Know Thyself.

DR. J. H. McCANN is enabled to detect to a certainty the true condition and locality of diseases, by a simple and scientific method, without asking the patient any questions. Some professors do this, yet are careful to ask some leading questions in order to obtain a clue to the disease. We do nothing of that kind, and have invariably given satisfaction. Consultations and examinations

JAPANESE SOAP!

JOHN F. GUNKEL & CO.'S

DETERSIVE AND ERASIVE

SOAP,

Louisville, Ky.

WE offer this Soap to the public with the full assurance that, if the directions given are carried out, it will save time labor, and money. All we ask is a fair trial; then let it stand upon its own merits. Among other advantages of this over other Washing Soaps, the following may be mentioned:

1. This Soap is warranted not to injure the fabric.
2. But one-half the time and labor will be required to do a washing by using this Soap in preference to any other.
3. The clothes need but little rubbing, and, in most cases, no boiling.
4. For washing hands it is greatly superior to any common Soap, as it does not chap, but has a tendency to soften the skin.
6. It cannot be surpassed for removing Ink, Tar, and Grease Spots, also for cleaning Paints.
7. The superiority of this Soap consists in its not containing any excess of Alkalies, and the materials used rendering it more mild than any other known Washing Soap.
7. It is undoubtedly the best Family Soap extant, and is warranted to give perfect satisfaction, or the money will be refunded.

☞All orders sent to the undersigned through the post-office, or given our wagons, will meet with prompt attention. [s17 d?f] JOHN F. GUNKEL & CO.

THE TRUE AND GENUINE

ENTERED ACCORDING TO ACT OF CONGRESS

BAKER & Co's
MEDICINAL TRANSPARENT
COD LIVER OIL.

OLEUM MORRHUAE

UNSURPASSED IN QUALITY AND EFFECTS. BEING THE SWEETEST AND BEST PREPARED

Its use, if fairly tried will soon restore the tone of the digestive organs, invigorate the blood, give general robustness to the frame, and add energy to the mind and nervous system. Its value has been remarkably evidenced by its wonderful restorative powers, when ordinary tonics had been vainly exhausted. It affords nourishment to the body when no other can be borne, and furnishes the frame with fat in a truly remarkable manner.

For CONSUMPTION and BRONCHITIS,
For SCROFULA in all its developments,
For WEAKNESS, WASTING, and every form of DEBILITY, its curative properties are unrivaled.

It may be taken without disrelish by the most delicate patient, and retained without effort in the most sensitive stomach. Its superiority in this and other important characteristics of genuine oil has been guaranteed for it the commendation of the most eminent Physicians throughout the States; the written testimony of the faculty of the best medical schools; the Professors of the

UNIVERSITY OF PENNSYLVANIA,
JEFFERSON COLLEGE OF PHILADELPHIA,
PHILADELPHIA COLLEGE OF MEDICINE, and others.

Invalids should be careful to purchase oil of undoubted reputation that they derive the most active and immediate advantages of the remedy. That which we prepare has decided evidences of superiority over other brands. Manufactured only by
